GOVERNOR IS WITNESS AT SENATE QUIZ

THE House of Representatives, by over two to one, has approved the French debt settlement, and of course the Senate will do the same thing. But in the Senate there will first be a lot of futile fuss, whose purpose is one of the mysteries of the senatorial mind. It is certainly not addressed to the other Senators, since they will not even stay in the room to listen to it, much less have their votes affected by it. And if it is intended for the people—what do the vociferators expect the people to do about it? Long before there can be any popular vote, the settlement will have been fixed beyond recall. Or, if it should be upset in France, the only result would be to pay nothing, instead of the partial payment now arranged. The fuss can accomplish nothing but fuss. Perhaps that is what it is for.

ONCE more, the question arises—which was the Republican and which the Democratic side of this vital question?

In the House of Representatives at least, the approval of the settlement was evidently the Republican side, since only 20 Republicans voted against it. But with 51 Democrats for and 88 against it, which was the Democratic side? Votes in the Senate are usually closer, but even a vote of 88 to 51 is too close to define a party policy.

IT IS superfluous to defend the students of the University of California, and of Stanford University against the charge of being "heathen." Of course they are not all active church members. Neither are all the people of any other community of equal size in California. They doubtless represent as many religious viewpoints as would any cross-section of the population. If that is "heathen," it means that California is a heathen state, and that the place to begin complaining and converting is everywhere, and not merely in the great universities.

ACTUALLY, there is probably as much of every sort of religion except one in the university as anywhere else. The one lacking sort is the Tennessee variety. If not to have that is to be heathen, then all modern institutions of learning are heathen, including the principal theological seminaries and the pulpits of the most prominent churches. Those who think that is heathen have survived into a shocking age. They are convinced that the religion which most educated Christians, including the clergy, profess, is not Christian. They charge that universities tend to promote this sort of Christianity and are therefore un-Christian. If so, it is likewise true of much of the church, also.

TIA JUANA, city of poker, booze and brothels, is to have a rival, in a new city of fame, champagne and industry. At least, the announcements of the new Mexican Monte Carlo, at Ensenada, seem to read that way. It is the underworld and the upper crust of the same thing. Both will have the attraction that there is no law against anything. But there are those who prefer to have it cheap and vulgar and others who like it expensive and refined. But in this they will be alike—they are both promoted by American capital, for American trade, and are located across the line in order to be in a place where there are no laws.

Which will Mexico be the more ashamed of?

SENATOR BORAH has suddenly leaped to the leadership of the drys. Because he refuses to be on the defensive. When the wets were on the defensive, they made a pitiful showing. The aggressive bootleggers may have peddled plenty of booze, but their timid apologists got nowhere defending them. Then suddenly, a few weeks ago, the wet press agents got up aggressive petty stunts. Immediately the lead passed to them. Now Senator Borah leaps to the contest on the other side, positively and aggressively. At once he is the leader. Quite aside from the issue, which brought it out, it is a lesson in leadership.

ANYTHING about beer is news, even if it is not important.

The visit of the German training ship Hamburg was in many ways a historic event. The decorating of American streets with German flags, alternating the Republican flag, in the old Imperial colors, with the Republican colors only emblazoned on one corner, raises a myriad of interesting associations. The whole occasion is one of the most significant steps in the renormalization of the world. But what did you read, in the headlines of the nation?

Only this: The ship's canteen, by somebody's oversight, sold beer in Los Angeles, and did not do so in San Francisco.

"CHINA is sick to death over foreign interference in her domestic affairs," almost screamed Minister Chu, at a meeting of the opium commission in Geneva.

It is not "China" that is excited over it. It is the small group of Chinese nationalists. Whenever they make themselves China; whenever, in fact, they or anybody succeeds in setting up a national government in China which represents the Chinese nation, "China" will have no further occasion to resent interference. There will be none. The only domestic governmental functions which foreigners are tempted to usurp in China are those which the so-called Chinese government itself fails to exercise.

Burkhart, on Trial in Oklahoma, Halts Proceedings by Full Statement

KILLS 3 WITH BLAST

Accused Admits Dynamiting Of Residence and Killing Smith, Wife, Servant

(By United Press)

PAWHUSKA, Okla., June 9.—Ernest Burkhart voluntarily pleaded guilty to murdering W. E. Smith during the Osage reign of terror, during his trial on that charge here today.

The end of the trial came with dramatic suddenness, after Burkhart discharged all of his attorneys except Flint Moss of Tulsa, and announced he had a statement to make in open court.

Burkhart stood before Judge Jess E. Worten and said:

"I want to confess that nothing I have said in court has been the truth."

Questioned by Court

Judge Worten then questioned Burkhart as to whether he had been influenced or promised any sort of immunity in exchange for making a confession.

Burkhart answered the judge's questions negatively.

Judge Worten announced he would sentence Burkhart, June 21.

An intimation of something out of the ordinary came when court opened. Moss said that he believed the case on trial could be concluded quickly if the judge would grant a recess.

Judge Worten granted the request and there followed a conference of Moss and state attorneys. Following the conference, court reconvened and Burkhart's plea of guilty was made.

Dynamite Smith Home

In his written statement, Burkhart declared he dynamited the Smith home, at which time Smith and his wife and a servant girl were killed, at the request of his uncle, William K. Hale, who, with John Ramsey, is charged jointly with the Smith murders.

Hale and Ramsey also are under federal indictment on charges of murdering Henry Roan Horse, Osage Indian.

It was charged by the state that Hale was the ringleader of a plot to murder Osage Indians for their wealth. More than 20 persons met untimely deaths during 1922. The year was known in Oklahoma as the "Osage reign of terror."

2 Bandits Loot Hotel of Cash

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The Witmer hotel, in the downtown district, was held up by a pair of bandits early today. The robbers covered the night clerk, including J. F. Burns, clerk, while they rifled the cash register. They escaped with approximately $165.

Resolution adopted unanimously at a meeting of the Ministerial Association of Orange County after viewing conditions at Orange County Harbor.

WHEREAS: A DEATH TRAP exists at the entrance to Newport Bay, where FOURTEEN HUMAN LIVES have been sacrificed in ONE YEAR through delay in carrying out plans to make it SAFE!

SAFE for the hundreds of men who go down to the sea that one of our essential foods may not fail us;

SAFE for our boys and girls and our neighbors' children, who come here to play;

Safe for the visitor who, seeking shelter in our bay, falls into this DEATH TRAP that we have permitted to exist at Orange county's door.

AND WHEREAS: We, as individuals or as a county, ARE our brother's keeper; and here we can save not only his life, but in the very saving bring to our county the ONE THING that will make possible her swift growth and insure a means of livelihood for the children growing up in our midst.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT: Because of all this we believe that, on June 10, the GREAT DAY for Orange county, The PEOPLE will, without hesitation, vote YES to build for Orange county a great and useful HARBOR.

PROHIBITION ISSUE TO BE DEBATED ON HOUSE FLOOR

Dry Enforcement Measure Reported Out by Judiciary Committee

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The president's order authorizing employment of state officers by the federal government to enforce prohibition is illegal on two grounds, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, said in a minority report of the senate judiciary committee made public today.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A prohibition debate on the house floor was insured today by the judiciary committee's action in reporting out the Goff-Graham-Andrews enforcement bill, tightening up the Volstead act.

The committee supported the contention that "a man's home is his castle," by recommending deletion of the section proposed by Lincoln C. Andrews, dry chief, to allow search of private dwellings if there is evidence of stills being set up in them.

The other provisions of the bill proposed by Andrews were approved. The committee requested Chairman Graham, Republican, Pennsylvania, to ask for a special rule to bring the measure before the house.

In the senate, the same bill, introduced by Senator Goff, Republican, West Virginia, has been much altered and probably will not be considered this session.

The report of the judiciary subcommittee, upholding the president's recent order authorizing state authorities to aid in federal prohibition enforcement, today was adopted by the full committee by an overwhelming vote. Only three members voted against the report. Senators Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and King, Democrat, Utah, said they would file minority reports condemning the order.

County Park Renamed For Irvine

Known as the Orange County park since it was deeded to the county some years ago, the famous mountain playground now bears the name of its donor, James Irvine. By an action of the county board of supervisors, the name of the county park has been officially changed to Irvine park, in honor of James Irvine, from whom it was a gift to the people of Orange county.

2 OUTLAWS SLAIN IN STREET BATTLE

PICHER, Okla., June 9.—Lee Burnoy and Charles Mays, reputed notorious outlaws, were slain in the streets here by officers in a gun battle early today.

Gene McClarey was wounded by a stray bullet.

N. L. Wosley, deputy sheriff, and W. Schmalbach, nightwatchman, engaged the two outlaws in battle when the latter were seen prowling about the streets at 3 a. m.

The two slain men were said to have had police records in four states and were out on bonds totaling $22,000 in connection with bank robberies.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Orange county has need to develop in new lines in order to maintain continued prosperity; and

WHEREAS, there are two important matters on which the united support of all citizens is necessary to carry into effect, and

WHEREAS, these two major projects are conservation of water for Orange county and the development of Newport bay as a practical and useful harbor; and

WHEREAS, the plans for the harbor improvement have been well studied, indorsements of responsible engineers given, and the plans are now ready to be acted upon by the voters of Orange county; and

WHEREAS, the cost of the improvements is small (for the life of the bonds is approximately 20 years), only 6 cents per annum for each $300 of actual property; and

WHEREAS, the benefits that will follow will be county-wide, and in brief time will more than repay the cost of the improvements; and

WHEREAS, it is only by co-operation and in unity of purpose that we, as a county, can progress; and as it soon will be necessary to call upon the county to support a water conservation program, for which the coast area of the county, although at present it has little need of further water development, will carry its share; and

WHEREAS, I am thoroughly convinced that a large majority of the voters and taxpayers of the city of Santa Ana, whom I represent, favor the proposed harbor development;

THEREFORE, I feel justified in issuing this proclamation, in the sole interests of the future development of Orange county and the city of Santa Ana, making urgent appeal to all voters of the county to support the harbor bonds at the polls tomorrow.

OAKLAND, June 9.—Police riot squads were called today to quell a disturbance and attempted break for liberty by 37 Chinese on the oil tanker India Arrow, at anchor here.

The break came after a riot, which followed an altercation between the Chinese cook and the second mate in the mess cabin. Brandishing knives and revolvers, the Chinese overpowered the second mate, the boatswain and an engineer's helper and swarmed over the sides of the ship on to the dock. They scattered and ran in the direction of the oriental quarter.

Armed with sawed-off shotguns, police rounded up the fugitives and drove them back to the vessel, where a heavy guard was established to prevent further disturbance.

PICKING DURKIN JURY

CHICAGO, June 9.—The tedious process of selecting a jury to try Martin Durkin, the shooting sheik, for murder, continued today with the number of veniremen summoned nearing 200. Six jurors have been tentatively accepted by both sides.

French, However, Reduce Charge on American to Absence Without Leave

SLAYS TWO BEDOUINS

Fleeing from Army with German Pals, Yankee Is Attacked by Arabs

BIERUT, Syria, June 9.—Bennett Doty (Gilbert Clare), American soldier in the French Legion, is now held on a charge of absence without leave and not desertion.

(By United Press)

PARIS, June 9.—A Damascus dispatch to the European edition of the Chicago Tribune here, quoted a letter from B. J. Doty, known as Gilbert Clare, young American member of the French Foreign Legion, as admitting the charge of desertion for which he is under arrest.

He deserted, the dispatch said, because he was homesick.

Accompanied by several Germans, he started for Palestine. Bedouins attacked the party and Clare killed two of them, the dispatch reported. "I am not afraid of death," the dispatch quoted him as writing, "I shall probably go to Devil's Island."

Clare probably will be given a trial at Damascus, the Tribune dispatch said.

MEN SURRENDER TO AVOID SLAUGHTER.

CAIRO, June 9.—A dramatic story of a battle between deserters from the French Foreign Legion and Arab tribesmen is told in Damascus advices concerning the case of B. J. Doty, alias Gilbert Clare, American youth, whose plight as a deserter caused the premier of France to stay the course of justice.

The uncensored advice said the youth deserted because he was unable to tolerate conditions he declared existed in the foreign legion.

With a half dozen companions, most of whom were German members of the Foreign Legion, he made a dash for the frontier after the recapture of Suda.

Arabs attacked the fleeing men, however, and a fight ensued. The deserters were armed only with one rifle and were facing death when French sympathizers arrived and saved them. The deserters were forced to surrender to French officers to avoid being slaughtered by the Arabs.

German Cruiser Sails for Hawaii

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The German training cruiser Hamburg, whose officers and cadets have been guests of San Francisco for a week, today weighed anchor for Honolulu. The vessel will remain at Honolulu one week, proceeding to Japan, China, Dutch East Indies, Ceylon, Mediterranean ports and thence to Germany.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, leads in the race for the Democratic nomination for congress from the fourth Florida district. The primary election was held yesterday.

Victory in Florida Primary Is Claimed for Mrs. Ruth Owen

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 9.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, was leading W. J. Sears, incumbent, by 139 votes this afternoon in the Democratic primary race for congress from the fourth Florida district.

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher was swamping Jerry W. Carter 2 to 1 in the senatorial race, while Thomas A. Yon was apparently assured of the congressional nomination in the third district. Yon was running in opposition to H. H. Smithwick, of Pensacola, incumbent.

Mrs. James A. Carson, campaign manager for Mrs. Owen, today claimed victory for her candidate.

NEW FEDERAL DRY ORDER IS DORMANT

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The federal prohibition organization plans no immediate use of President Coolidge's executive order, allowing the appointment of state, county or municipal officers as federal dry agents. Director of Prohibition James Jones announced today.

No appointment under the order will be made at any time unless a request is received by prohibition administrators in the field from states or counties for such designation.

No requests have been received from the states for the allocation of prohibition commissions. Jones said that, so far not a single county, state or municipal officer has been made a dry agent under the order.

Jones indicated that the order will not be put into effect in the near future and it may never be used.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews, dry czar, will decide whether the order will be allowed to automatically lay idle or be put into effect, when he returns from a vacation next week.

CHILDREN WATCH NEGRO EXECUTION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 9.—For the first time on record, children have witnessed an execution in Arkansas.

Some 20 members of Mrs. Lena Blevins' family, including several children under 10 years of age, witnessed the electrocution of Wash Martin, negro, at the state penitentiary here today. Martin was convicted of killing Mrs. Blevins near here last December and was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Albert Jones, negro, was electrocuted for the murder of a negro woman near Blytheville, Ark., several months ago.

Defeated Candidate for Senator Alleges Irregularities in Pennsylvania

FAST SUMS ARE SPENT

Executive Says 7000 Persons Were Falsely Registered in Single County

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Gifford Pinchot, unsuccessful dry candidate in the Pennsylvania primary, charged at the opening of the senate primary investigation today that there was fraud in that election.

Pinchot contended that 7000 persons were falsely registered in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh).

The governor, who was associated with the late President Roosevelt during the height of the executive's career, also claimed that the votes in the home town of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had been held up by the election committee.

Favoritism is Charged

"The committee was favorable to Senator Pepper (incumbent backed by Mellon)," Pinchot said. Senator Jim Reed, Democrat, Missouri, far-famed examiner, opened the fraud subject when he asked Pinchot:

"What, if anything, do you know of election fraud in the primary?"

"I know the outward signs of election frauds. It is not personal knowledge but I base my opinion on reports that came to me."

Photostatic copies of records involving expenditures by the three Republican senatorial candidates in the Pennsylvania primary were produced today at the inquiry.

Senator Reed, read into the record documents he received under subpoenas which said that William S. Vane, successful lawyer, personally spent $74,435.89; Gifford Pinchot, arid dry, $43,787.41; and Senator George Wharton Pepper, administration incumbent, $2500.

Pinchot First Witness

Pinchot was called by Reed as first witness and affirmed the oath administered by the chairman of the senate committee.

"Describe to the committee the character of the organization you had in the campaign," was the first question by Reed.

Pinchot then told how his headquarters were organized in Philadelphia with his friends, C. Jay Godehouse and Steve Stahlacker, in charge.

"Did you contribute yourself the $43,787 that you have filed?" Reed asked.

"I gave that money myself. That does not include the money expended by the committee."

The governor's private secretary submitted statements concerning committee expenditures, showing that the committee had spent $19,241.33. The amount included some money contributed by the governor out, answering a question by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon. Pinchot estimated that his total expenditures, both personal and general, amounted to about $160,000.

Major McGovern Called

Pinchot explained later that the Pittsburgh office was not included in his estimate and Reed called Maj. Charles C. McGovern, Pittsburgh, in charge of the west state campaign.

McGovern said he spent $588 in his sector.

"That includes about $2000 we got from Philadelphia," Pinchot interposed.

The statements showed that Mrs. Charles B. Wood, Washington, contributed $50,000; $25,000 on April 9 and $25,000 additional on May 6. She was the largest contributor.

PLAN TRIBUTE TO JOHN D. SPRECKELS

SAN DIEGO, June 9.—Flags were flown at half mast here today in respect to the memory of John D. Spreckels, whose funeral was to be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the family home in Coronado.

Because of the limited space only intimate friends of Mr. Spreckels will attend the services at the home. A public tribute to the San Diego builder will be held Sunday afternoon, at the Spreckels outdoor organ pavilion, in Balboa park.

The body will be cremated and the ashes taken to San Francisco for interment beside those of his wife and son, John D. Spreckels Jr.

From all over the nation yesterday and today came messages of sorrow at the passing of the California pioneer.

Merchants of San Diego have been asked in a mayor's proclamation to suspend business activity during the rites at the home this afternoon.

RUM THEFT BLOCKED
CHICAGO, June 9.—Thief of $150,000 worth of government alcohol was averted in a Chicago warehouse early today when two handits were frightened from the scene by shooting by government guards.

BROOKHART WINS BY 70,000 VOTES

DES MOINES, Ia., June 9.—Almost complete returns from the Republican senatorial primary in Iowa, which was held Monday, today show Smith W. Brookhart, incumbent and former senator, nominated over Senator Albert B. Cummins, administration supporter, by about 70,000 plurality.

The vote from 2367 precincts of the state's 2447 gave: Brookhart, 203,140; Cummins, 133,852.

Other candidates were running well in the rear.

German Doctor Can't Practice In California

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—How a hard-working German doctor lost, on the third trial, his chance to practice in America by the small margin of a split infinitive or a dangling participle is related by the state board of medical examiners.

Three times the young doctor sought permission of the state examiners to practice in California, and three times it was refused. Disappointment was so keen the third time that the youth broke down and cried.

The first time he found that a M. D. degree was needed, although he had already spent years in study of medicine. He returned to Germany and earned his degree. When he returned, he met another difficulty, the English language. He took two examinations, passing the second with a grade of 74 1-3. The passing grade is 75.

With dogged perseverance, he has set to work again, this time to forget his medical knowledge while he studies the English language.

Pastor, Family In Mediumistic Case Are Freed

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The Rev. C. H. Tomson, his wife, Liza, and daughter, Dora, alleged "medium-dollars" family, were freed today on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

In ruling to release the prisoners, Superior Judge McLucas reversed a decision of the municipal court, which convicted the trio, sentencing each to 60 days in jail.

The superior court decided there was no misrepresentation on the part of the defendants in conducting their public seances.

Caravan Marks Road Completion

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Commemorating the completion of the Victory and Truckee river highway projects, forming a new link in interstate motor communication, a "Victory" caravan of nearly 100 automobiles today left San Francisco for a four-day tour to Salt Lake.

The caravan, organized under the auspices of California State Automobile association, was headed by Frederick H. Myer, of San Francisco, president of the Utah-Nevada-California Highway association.

Jap School Case Will be Appealed

HONOLULU, June 9.—Territorial officials have announced they will appeal to the U. S. supreme court for a review of the Japanese Language School case, which was recently decided by the ninth district court of appeals. The appellate court ruled that the territorial government had without power to compel all instruction in the islands to be in English or the native language and that privately-supported schools did not have to submit to complete control of territorial officials.

Warm Weather Is Due In New York

NEW YORK, June 9.—Indications that the long delay in the arrival of summer was about over, came with daybreak today.

The sun was bright and warm and there was the feeling of summer in the air—for the first time in weeks.

At 8:30 a. m., the temperature was 68 in City Hall park and there were indications that the thermometer would hit its higher ranges before the day was over.

Yankee Marines Quit Bluefields

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, June 9.—The government reports that the American marines, landed at Bluefields early last month during the Liberal revolt, have been withdrawn.

Gen. Jose Solorzano Diaz, nephew of former President Adolfo Diaz, has been made governor of the Atlantic coast region.

HEADS ENGINEERS
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 9.—C. J. Ulrich, local engineer, has been chosen president of the American Association of Engineers, by membership ballot, it was said today. Official announcement of his election will be made at the annual convention in Philadelphia June 17.

MAN, 86, MARRIES
HOLLISTER, Calif., June 9.—William H. Statham, 86, and Mrs. Caroline E. Norris, 64, both of San Francisco, were married here by the Rev. Theodore Lee, and today were back in San Francisco to begin their honeymoon.

2 Wives Ask Mercy For Bigamist

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Because the two women he married both thought so much of him that they united in making a plea for leniency, Christobal Padilla, 25, a railroad shop worker, after he had faced a prison term for bigamy, Mrs. Dorotea Padilla, of Sacramento, the first wife, whom Padilla married in Sacramento, in 1922, caused his arrest because she did not like to see him with the new "Mrs. Padilla." He "married" the latter, Mrs. Maria Ramirez Padilla, in Stockton, two years ago.

PLAN SERVICE IN AIMEE'S MEMORY

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Memorial services will be held at Angelus temple on Sunday, June 20, for Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, who disappeared on May 18, according to announcement today by Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. McPherson and manager of the tabernacle.

The services will be simple, Mrs. Kennedy said. Mrs. McPherson's favorite hymns and passages of Scripture will be used in the rites. This is expected to bring a solemn conclusion to the Pacific coast's most mystifying tragedy. All hope of finding the body of the evangelist, believed to have drowned while swimming at Ocean Park, has been given up by Angelus temple worshippers. Plans to lay the body at rest beneath the colored rostrum, at the foot of the temple, have been abandoned.

Electricity Does Work of Millions

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The work of 25,000,000 men on the Pacific coast is being performed by electricity, according to R. H. Ballard, general manager of the Southern California Edison company.

Addressing the Pacific Coast Electrical association, meeting here in annual convention, Ballard said that his company produced an aggregate of 2,500,000 horsepower, which is capable of doing the work of 25,000,000 men.

California, it was revealed, has harnessed a greater proportion of its electrical potentialities than any other state. In this state is 1356 kilowatt hours for each person, as against a per capita annual consumption of 648 hours for the nation.

Bugs Are Costly To Agriculturists

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Bugs are not only annoying—they are expensive.

They dine on California's farm crops—and the meals cost the farmers something like $50,000,000 a year, the state department of agriculture estimates.

Insects, rodents and weeds, the farmer's arch-enemies, cause a loss estimated at approximately $85,000,000 annually, according to W. S. Wilkinson, seed specialist of the department.

Mineral Springs, Ark.—"We use Black-Draught in our family of six children," says Mrs. C. E. Nutt, of this place, "and we find it a good bowel regulator. I give it to my children for colds and constipation, or any other stomach disorders, and it certainly is very helpful. I have never known it to fail them. Where there are so many children, it is a good idea to keep a laxative on hand, and Black-Draught is what we use."

"I have taken it myself for indigestion. I would feel dizzy, have gas and sour stomach. I would also feel a tightness in my chest. I took a good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught when I felt that way and it would relieve me. I would feel better for days."

"My husband takes Black-Draught for biliousness. He says he has never found its equal. When he has the tired, heavy feeling, he takes Black-Draught night and morning for a few days and he doesn't complain any more. I am sure do recommend Black-Draught."

CONFESSES TO SLAYING MAN AT ROSE FETE

(By United Press)
VENICE, June 9.—Fred Galloway, alias Fred Roland, 24, arrested here on a fugitive warrant, made a complete confession today to the "ukulele murder" of Andrew Pashute, at San Jose, according to police.

Galloway, according to the confession, beat Roland to death with an automobile crank, following the latter's threat to expose him as a deserter from the U. S. army.

The men became acquainted during the Rose festival at San Jose. On the night of May 22, while seated in Pashute's automobile, they quarreled, and the murder followed.

Then, according to the confession, Galloway took his victim's body into a nearby field, and fled in the automobile to Salinas, where the machine was abandoned and he came to this city.

A ukulele which Galloway was said to have been strumming in St. James park, San Jose, shortly before the murder, was found in his room here.

Pashute was last seen alive playing a ukulele duet in the park with a companion, now believed to have been Galloway. That was during the celebration of the closing hours of the Rose fete, on the night of May 22, police said.

Galloway is being held for authorities of Santa Clara county, said to be enroute here to claim him as their prisoner.

T. B. TALBERT

APPEALS FOR

HARBOR VOTES

By T. B. TALBERT
Chairman Board of Supervisors,
Orange County

I consider the harbor a good investment, after having thoroughly examined the question from every angle. The opponents are making a strong argument in behalf of the farmer on account of increased taxes, which after analyzing the question from every standpoint, is a thin argument.

In the first place, land and frontage accruing to Orange county, after the settlement of the lawsuit with Mr. Irvine, will be worth several times the entire amount of the bond issue.

In the upper and lower bay, there will be over 500 acres of land and between five and six miles of harbor frontage. I was talking to the city manager of Long Beach a few days ago, and he said that they were offered $20,000 an acre or a million dollars for 50 acres of land bordering on Long Beach harbor, by one of the railroads. This land was worth only a few dollars an acre a few years ago.

Values Will Increase

Second, no one will question that the values of property will change and increase immediately following the improvement and building of a safe entrance to Newport Bay. We are sure to acquire additional values in the way of yachts, ships, and the creation of new business. Land values are bound to increase for a radius of several miles, at least, around the bay. With these additional and created values, there is not a question of doubt but that, in a very short time, this will be sufficient to pay interest and sinking fund on the harbor bonds issue, and go a long way toward helping pay off the water bonds that, soon as possible, must be voted.

We must remember, further, that these additional values help to pay all other current bills and bond issues pertaining to Orange county. As a matter of fact, I think it will be only a short time before the created values will be a help to the farmer, rather than a burden. And figuring along this line, the balance of Orange county will practically have found their harbor.

Third, no one can question that water transportation is just as important today as rail transportation. For example, suppose the railroads were removed from Orange county over night? What condition would we be in? On the other hand, we can add water transportation, which means as much or more than rail. This certainly would be a great addition to Orange county.

Whether we do a great deal of commercial shipping or not, when we once are an accredited port it gives us the leverage or a club for terminal or better freight rates. A very slight change in rates of Orange county exports and imports would very easily pay the difference in the tax rate.

Change in Spirit

I can't help but feel that when the harbor is once improved, so that we can get in and out of the entrance with safety, there is going to be a change in the spirit and atmosphere throughout all this section of the country.

The advertisement and the knowledge of the fact throughout all time that we have become a port of entry would, in my opinion, alone be worth the amount of the bond issue.

Preparatory for future foundation, in the interest of good sound businesses and for the progress and prosperity of Orange county, I appeal to you to vote "YES" on BOTH propositions.

Condition of crops in California on June 1 was estimated by the crop reporting board of the agriculture department as follows:

Almonds, 91 per cent of normal; apricots, 62 per cent; cherries, 70 per cent; lemons, 94 per cent; Olives, 74 per cent; oranges, 87 per cent; plums, 92 per cent; prunes, 55 per cent; walnuts, 58 per cent.

Condition of winter wheat on June 1 was 76.5 per cent of normal, indicating a production of 543,200,000 bushels, the department of agriculture estimated.

WHAT DOES AN X-RAY

examination mean to you? Is it worthy of your consideration if you are sick? Would you be willing to spend a few minutes today in order to determine exactly what is causing your trouble, if in doing so you are put to no expense and are under no obligation in any way? We are certain you would. Then if you are willing, act at once as it may save you a great deal of suffering later on. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Health is the result of perfect co-ordination of all the organs of the body; however, if these parts are not co-ordinating one with another the result is sickness and disease. Are your kidneys, lungs, bowels, spleen, stomach, pancreas, heart, liver and bladder working as they should? If not, how can you expect to be well? Disorders such as toxic poisoning, asthma, constipation, diabetes, indigestion, weak heart, biliousness, bladder trouble, lumbago, rheumatism, headache, nervousness and that tired, worn-out feeling which comes over you in the morning when you should be at your best are results of a weakened condition of some of the above organs. This weakness is directly due to a pressure on the nerves supplying functional energy to the affected parts. Without this nerve force or energy no part of the body will work as it should.

FREE!

X-Ray examination will show the exact location and extent of this pressure. That is why we use it in our work. We would not have a patient without an X-Ray picture than a carpenter would think of building a house without a rule. This is because we do not believe in guesswork when the health of our patients is at stake. If you are not well and wish to take advantage of our free offer.

SLEEPY SAILOR HURT WHEN HE STRIKES TRUCK

Line Garza, a sailor on the U. S. S. Oklahoma, stationed at San Pedro, is in the Orange County hospital, in a serious condition, as the result of an automobile accident near the intersection of Garden Grove road and West Seventeenth street, at 6 a. m., today.

According to a report made by deputy sheriffs, Garza drove his car into the rear end of a truck driven by Steve Perris, Long Beach, while both were going in the same direction. Garza told officers he fell asleep and crashed into the truck before he saw it. His machine was almost completely wrecked. The sailor was severely cut on the head, and bled profusely before he could be taken to the hospital. Nurses said he would live. Garza spent the night in Santa Ana with friends and was returning to his ship at the time of the accident.

2000 PURCHASING AGENTS IN SESSION

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—More than 2000 buyers, representing a total purchasing power of approximately $200,000,000, convened here today for the annual International Purchasing Agents' convention.

The average bargain-hunting wife is a wastrel compared to a professional buyer, according to the boasts of these men. The housewife is entirely ignorant of the economic principles underlying scientific production and distribution, and buying and selling, they maintain.

"They operate on a hit or miss policy," said W. L. Chandler, secretary of the international association. "At times of prosperity they buy and buy heavily. Likewise, prices are at their peak in times of prosperity, and they pay more for what they buy."

"Also, they buy in small quantities, thus violating in daily life one of the basic principles upon which the entire theory of the purchasing agent is grounded."

In the future, leaders of the buyers' convention declared, quantity buying on scientific principle will be followed in the home as well as in the industry.

Nearly every state in the Union, and Canada and Mexico, were represented at the opening day's session. R. M. Sedgewick, of Toronto, Canada, is international president and chairman of the convention.

MRS. GRACE HEANEY DIES IN HOME HERE

Mrs. Grace Catherine Heaney, wife of Hugh J. Heaney, cashier in the Santa Fe office here, passed away late yesterday, following a protracted illness, in the family home, 714 East Sixth street. Funeral services will be held in St. Joseph's Catholic church at 9 a. m., Friday, with the Rev. Father Henry Eummelen officiating. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Heaney was the daughter of B. Callaghan, of Redlands, where she was born. She was 25 years of age and was married to Hugh Heaney on July 3, 1916. Besides her husband, she leaves two little daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Grace Loretta; her father, one sister, Mrs. E. T. McLaughlin, of San Francisco, and two brothers, John J. Callaghan, of San Francisco, and Bernard J. Callaghan, of Brentwood, all of whom have been with her during her illness.

The decedent received her education in the Sacred Heart school and high school in Redlands and came to Santa Ana to reside nine years ago. She was an active member of St. Joseph's Altar society, Capistrano institute, Y. L. I. and an ardent teacher in the Mexican community center on West Fifth street.

Society

Original Manuscripts
Quill Pen Meet

ENTERTAINING indeed was the latest Quill Pen club program when members of that enterprising group of writers were entertained by Mrs. Ida Marx at her home, 708 West Second street.

Quite an array of verse and stories was offered for constructive criticism of members. Mrs. Herman Reuter read two stories for children. Mrs. Marx read two "short, short stories," and Mrs. N. E. Wells read a group of verse. In addition, Mrs. Frank West read a story and two club guests, Miss Dorothy Garstang and Mrs. Charles M. Best, were prevailed upon to give some of their verse. Miss Garstang has had several poems accepted by the Lyric West, and gave those and Mrs. Best read a group of her delightful child verse.

In addition to the program of original writings, Mrs. Helen Nelson, in charge of the children's department of the public library, told of the demand for children's fiction and the lines it should follow. Her talk offered many ideas of value to the writers. Mrs. Best was prevailed upon to attend a "story hour" at the library in the near future and give some of her verses for the children.

The formal program ended with an excellent paper by Mrs. Joseph Vian on the "Beginnings of Short Stories," followed by roll call. The usual group of interested members assembled for the pleasant evening, sharing it with the guests, Mrs. Best, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Harry Garstang and Miss Dorothy Garstang.

In the evening, Mrs. Marx served refreshments to the friendly group. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. N. E. Wells and Miss Verna Wells, 924 Halladay street. Mrs. R. A. Cushman and Mrs. Wells have been named as a program committee to plan the programs several weeks in advance.

Iowa Guest Is Made Dinner Honoree in Vandermaast Home

TRANSFORMING her beautiful home at 425 South Birch St. into a veritable flower garden, Mrs. Asa Vandermaast was hostess at a one o'clock dinner last Saturday, honoring her old friend, Mrs. Mary Cox of Pella, Ia., who is spending a few months in Los Angeles with Mrs. Mary Houck.

Mrs. Vandermaast selected yellow and pink for her color motif, utilizing gladioli, snapdragons and poppies in a profusion of harmonizing colors. The dinner tables were centered with baskets of snapdragons and poppies, about which flew dainty butterflies, which also fluttered upon the candelabra, glasses, place cards and nut cups, all of which contributed their charm to the picture.

After enjoying the elaborate and delicious menu, the friends gathered about for an afternoon of social conversation, as they were former residents of Pella and Iowa City, Ia., and all enjoyed the happy reunion.

Besides the hostess and honor guest, those present were Mesdames Gertrude Vandermaast, Henry Vandermaast, Will Brinkhoff, H. T. De Kruij, John Rhyburger, and Arnett, all of Los Angeles; Mrs. Harry Keables, Hollywood; Mrs. Charles Lemon, Redondo, and her sister, Mrs. Harry Wilson of Chicago; Mrs. Jack Carter, Mrs. John Van Wyk, Mrs. Marie Standish and Mrs. Emma Lyday, together with Mrs. Walter N. Prince and Mrs. Murray Vandermaast, daughter and daughter-in-law of the hostess, who assisted her charmingly in her pleasant hostess duties.

Howard's Buttermilk Cream Must Give Results in One Week or Money Back. Big Demand For New Jars Say All Druggists

Every woman reader of this paper who prizes a clear creamy white complexion and snow-white hands and arms will be glad to know that while preparing this old-time buttermilk recipe at home was always messy and troublesome they can now obtain at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation called "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

The directions are simple and the woman who has hitherto refused to indulge in such so-called "vanities" might well be excused for using Buttermilk Cream since beauty simply thrives on buttermilk. No pimples or ugly sallowness, no wrinkles or lines around the eyes and mouth, but just that creamy delicious color that makes even a good looking woman still more beautiful.

You can get it at any pharmacy or department store by simply asking for Howard's Buttermilk Cream and remember it's only sold on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. IMPORTANT: Even the finest face creams fail if the soap you use is harsh. Howard's Buttermilk Cream Soap keeps skin smooth, soft and pliable.

21 PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PUPILS ARE GRADUATED

Twenty-one pupils of St. Joseph's parochial school were awarded diplomas last night at impressive ceremonies, held in St. Joseph's Catholic church, which was filled with interested relatives and friends.

The church was a bower of bloom, a profusion of lovely gladioli and greenery being used on the altars and sanctuary.

The graduates marched in to the procession, played on the pipe organ with violin accompaniment. The girls were accompanied by a bevy of little flower girls, including Jean Hill, Wilma Borchard, Caroline Borchard, Mary Markel and Mary Layton, and the acolytes were Leavitt Daley, Andrew Carroll, Bert Banks, Junior Barnett, Joseph Barnett, Alfred Borchard and Ralford Reynolds.

As the graduates were grouped about the sanctuary, "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung, followed by the farewell song by the school.

Father Eummelen had presented the diplomas, he delivered an excellent address to the graduates, stressing the advantages and opportunities given young people of today and urging them to go out into the world as brave soldiers, using their talents to assist in making a better world. This was the largest eighth grade class in the history of St. Joseph's. The majority of the young women will remain in the parish high school, the boys entering Santa Ana high school.

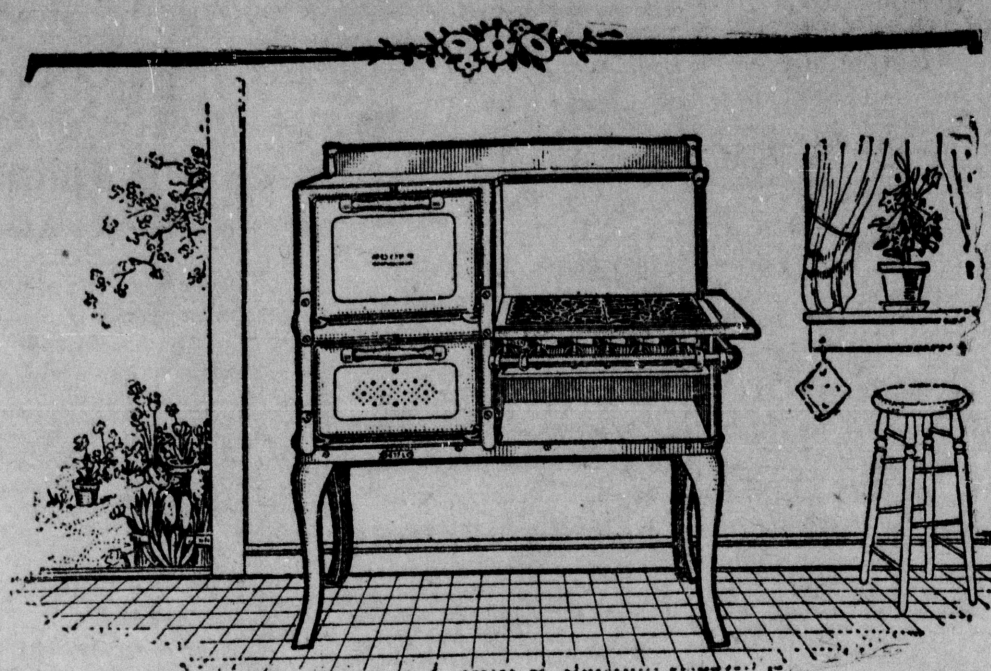

Miss Lucille Ireland played a violin solo, preceding the benediction, which closed with the singing of "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," by the audience.

The graduates are Lucille Ireland, Joseph Hamann, Evelyn Chase, Bernard Haupt, Hilda Ravenkamp, Walter Markel, Josephine Schwickerath, Lawrence Rossner, Vera Pierson, Robert Beaver, Margaret Reynolds, John Gunning, Mary June Layton, Claude Norton, Alice Pierson, Antone Giesler, Naomi Brown, Vincent Paine, Anna Marie Catherine, Alexander Grotty and Vincent Borchard.

A Jewelry Purchase Is An Investment In Permanent Values

Men of all nations pass. But their jewels remain. Of all the possessions of ancient civilizations, the most enduring have been the tokens wrought in precious stones and metals. Gone are the palaces of Egyptian kings; their gorgeous apparel and equipages. But it scattered among the museums of today, in all parts of the world, many of their jewels are still intact, more beautiful and infinitely more valuable than ever.

European Travelers Are Honor Guests At Dinner Party

ETED on every side by their friends, Miss Jennie Lasby and Miss Lula Minter find themselves quite the center of interest as the time for their departure for extended European trips, draws near. Each will leave in the near future for a delightfully planned summer which will be sweetened by the memory of farewell events in their honor.

One of the pleasantest of these was the dinner and theater party presented last night by Mrs. W. H. Harrison who assembled her guests at St. Ann's Inn where they enjoyed dining amidst the manifold charms of that favored hostess.

The second phase of the affair was staged at the new Broadway theater where "Stella Dallas" was being shown and where all were agreed that it was undoubtedly the outstanding film event of the year and a very real triumph for Belle Bennett, the star.

Mrs. Harrison's guests included in addition to her hostesses, Miss Minter and Miss Lasby, Mrs. Otto S. Russell, Mrs. Minnie Holmes, Miss Gertrude Minor, Mrs. Warren Brakeman and Mrs. Earl Morris.

West Virginia Guests Honored at Party

Complimenting Fred Ambrose and family who recently arrived from West Virginia for a visit to Mr. Ambrose's sister, Mrs. Mary Lewis, 424 East Pine street, was a surprise party at the Lewis home last Saturday night.

Music was a pleasant feature of the evening and was furnished by Miss Pearl Lewis and Miss Marjorie Arnold, steel guitar players, and Walter Corbin, playing the mandolin. New and interesting games were suggested by Mr. Ambrose and thoroughly enjoyed by all. As midnight approached, the merry-makers were regaled with sandwiches, coffee and cake.

Those present were Fred Ambrose and sons, Fred Jr. and Raymond of West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Scott and son Calvin of Denver, Colo.; Orton Marsh of Johnston, Pa.; Miss Grace Stutewart and Walter Corbin, both of Los Angeles; Miss Pearl Lewis, Miss Marjorie Arnold, Bill Vogler and the hostess, Mrs. Mary Lewis.

The West Virginians are being taken on a number of interesting trips, the most recent being Laguna Beach where the week-end was spent, resulting in a wonderful time for all.

Many Good Times At S. A. Country Club

June affairs at Santa Ana Country club were to be opened in delightful fashion this afternoon by the bridge party for feminine members and their guests, and were to continue with many pleasant affairs through the month of roses and brides.

Sundays, always popular at the pleasant clubhouse, will be made even more so throughout the month by the country-fried chicken dinners served family style. In order to simplify dining-room arrangements, it has been suggested that plans to dine at the club, be telephoned in advance, although this is not strictly necessary, according to Manager McGilvray.

Next Friday will usher in the June informal dance, beginning at 9 o'clock p. m. Many gay little parties are being planned for this event, and an excellent orchestra will be featured. On Friday, June 18, the evening will be devoted to bridge, with unusually handsome prizes offered. Punch will be served in the intervals of playing, and previous successful evenings promise well for the approaching one.

On the final Friday night of the month, a supper dance will be featured, and promises to attract an unusually large and enthusiastic crowd. Dancing will begin at 8:30, with food punch to be served throughout the evening. Supper will be served at 10:45 and an excellent menu will be offered at a very nominal price.

Ebell Chorus members will meet at the clubhouse tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock for their usual practice session under the direction of their leader, Marie Bishop.

A Used Clothing and Bric-a-brac Sale will be held Friday and Saturday at the former Anderson store, located at 205 East Fourth street, under the auspices of the Ebell Day Nursery committee, and as a benefit for the nursery. Many articles of clothing in excellent condition and equally desirable household articles will be offered, and members of the Ebell committee will be in charge during the two days' sale. The committee is composed of Mesdames T. D. Knights, J. H. Metzgar, Walter Vandermast, W. E. Winslow, Harry Spencer, Perry F. Schrock, E. B. Sprague and L. M. Forcey.

Philathea Girls Hold Costume Party

OWNED in quaint costumes of an earlier day, young matrons and maids of the Junior Philathea class of the First Baptist Sunday school, met Monday night for a merry old-fashioned party, given by Mrs. Ruth Jones and Mrs. Oral Richards, at the home of the latter 721 South Birch street.

Old-fashioned homeys were used to adorn the home, and games of "ye olden time" were introduced, such as "spin the platler," and kindred amusements. One merry contest of carrying beans on a knife blade, was so arranged that when the race finally narrowed down to three, two of the contestants failed, and left Mrs. Mildred Hill to take honors. The prize proved to be a shower of lovely handkerchiefs, presented Mrs. Hill by her classmates, to carry their friendship with her to her new home in Oklahoma.

Ere the evening with its games, friendliness and old time music, drew to a close, the two hostesses served ice cream with crushed strawberries, home-made cake, fruit punch and candies.

Enjoying the evening with Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Jones were the Messrs. Vera Coad, Irene Cravath, Mildred Fox, Mildred Holmes, Edna Ingham, Emma Lee Johnson, Laura Joiner, Hazel McFarland, Ethel Froeschle, Mesdames Alpha Johnson, Cora Moore, Nell Neighbor, Marie Schlicher, Oa Swanke, Nellie Garnett, Virgie Platt, Bertha Hill and the class teacher, Mrs. J. P. Williams.

Attend Commencement At Redlands

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Hays made a flying visit to their home on North Broadway, yesterday, are going on to Balboa where they have been spending the past few months and will remain until mid-June when they will motor north to the Stanford commencement exercises where their son, Gene Hays, will graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays spent Sunday and Monday at Redlands university, where their son-in-law, Raymond Henry Bradstreet, of Long Beach, was a member of the graduating class. They attended baccalaureate sermon and commencement exercises, starting back to Santa Ana after the final festivities Monday night.

Mr. Bradstreet, whose marriage to Miss Annie Laurie Hays was one of the outstanding events of last summer, has carried his work in the Mutual Life Insurance company right along with his college work, and has made a name for himself in athletics as well. He has taken much of his training in business under Mr. Hays.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Tustin W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Edna Cravath with the program to be presented under the direction of Mrs. J. O. Preble.

Berean class members of the First M. E. Sunday school will hold a business and social meeting in the church parlors Friday night at 5:30 o'clock and will follow the session with a pot-luck supper to be served at 6:30 o'clock.

A Used Clothing and Bric-a-brac Sale will be held Friday and Saturday at the former Anderson store, located at 205 East Fourth street, under the auspices of the Ebell Day Nursery committee, and as a benefit for the nursery. ## Wedding Breakfast Is Served at St. Ann's After Nuptials

EDDED early yesterday morning by the Rev. Father O'Connell of St. Ann's Catholic church, Miss Clara D. Meyers of Walnut Street and Walter L. Schumaker of Placentia, sought the kindly offices of that saint still further when they followed their nuptials with a wedding breakfast at St. Ann's Inn.

Unusually lovely details marked the breakfast which was expressed in colors of rose and gold. Pink gladioli graced the table and nut-cups and favors were in gold tones. Covers were placed for the new Mr. and Mrs. Schumaker, O. H. Schumaker, Miss Clara Schumaker, Mrs. Mary Meyers, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Henderson.

The bride is a popular nurse of the community and received her training in the Oak Park hospital, Oak Park, Ill., also graduating from Loyola University there.

Young People Plan Santa Ana Wedding

An interesting Sunday wedding was solemnized in this city at 6:30 o'clock on June 5, when Miss Viola Gill pledged her troth to Dee Wilkinson, both of the young people being residents of Downey.

The nuptials took place at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Thurman Means, 611 East First street, the Rev. Otto Russell of the First Baptist church officiating.

Small pink and white blossoms entered into the fashioning of a graceful archway, beneath which the young people took their vows. Miss Leona Gill of Los Angeles, was honor maid while the groom was assisted by his friend, Mr. Wheeler of Los Angeles. Miss Gill was lovely as a bride in an elaborate embroidered white georgette gown and carried a shower of pink and white roses and ferns.

The ring ceremony was used. Mrs. James Clark playing Lohengrin's march as the bridal party entered. The pink and white color scheme was artistically carried out in the living rooms and dining room, where places of vantage were held by large baskets of gladioli. Following congratulations to the happy couple, a collation of chicken sandwiches, salad, coffee and strawberry mousse, was served, together with the bride's cake, a beautiful confection, which she cut for her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were showered with appreciated gifts for their new home, which will be in Downey, where the groom is a prosperous business man. A honeymoon motor trip will be enjoyed for ten days.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Means, at whose home the marriage took place, witnesses to the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Means and family of Tustin, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryan and son, Joe Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Smith and son Duane, all of Santa Ana; Miss Rosine Gill of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Molina and two children of Norwalk; Mrs. Preston Delbert Preston and Mrs. Phyllis Downey; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glover and son Marvin of Culver City; Mr. and Each succeeding Sunday thereafter will have its special water events preceded by an evening of dancing on Saturday, June 20 will be distinguished by its special charm to life at that popular spot. Among these festivities, that of Saturday, June 19, promises delightful features as open house will be maintained for all Southern California Yacht club members. In the evening, a carnival hop will be given, and friendly hospitality will prevail.

The earlier events will serve to whet interest in those of the holiday week-end of the "Glorious Fourth" which will include racing, cards, dancing and all the pleasures connected with club life at the seaside. On Friday, July 2, the feminine members will assemble for a bridge luncheon. Saturday, Sunday and Monday will each feature special races, programs for which are now being made out.

Saturday night, July 3, will bring the Independence Day ball, one of the big social events of the season, when members gather from all parts of the southland, and guests are entertained. Dinner preceding the ball, promises to be one of the brilliant affairs of the summer.

Mrs. McBride, Compton; J. I. Clark, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Hattie Clark and family, Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. James Means and family of Anaheim.

School Friends Enjoy Afternoon Party

NE of the happy affairs connected with junior high school graduation, was the party given recently by Miss Edith Gajeski, 107 South Ross street, a member of the Julia Lathrop class which will enter senior high school next fall.

Miss Edith's guests included a group of her classmates who greatly enjoyed an afternoon of lively games. Music, too, was a feature and Miss Mollie Carroll played several piano numbers. A variety of spring flowers lent their charm to the scene.

Late in the afternoon, refreshments were served at small tables, attractively arranged, where the guests found their places by means of dainty cards bearing their names.

Enjoying the hospitality of the Gajeski home as extended by the young hostess, were the Misses Mollie Carroll, Marian Parsons, Marjorie Adams, Gertrude Prior, Ada Marie Hendrickson, Alice Myers, Louise Maslin, all sister graduates with Miss Edith, and Miss Veda Powers, her cousin, who will graduate from Polytechnic high school with the class of 1927.

Yacht Club Affairs Include Gaieties

While sailing and speed boat races are the center of interest at Newport Harbor Yacht club, the social side of club life is of marked importance and lends a pronounced charm to life at that popular spot. Among these festivities, that of Saturday, June 19, promises delightful features as open house will be maintained for all Southern California Yacht club members. In the evening, a carnival hop will be given, and friendly hospitality will prevail.

Merry Group Assembles For House-party at Laguna Beach

DELIGHTFUL house party, was the verdict given by a group of girls upon the outing at Laguna Beach which they enjoyed at the week-end as guests of Mrs. Merrill N. Couchman.

The group left Santa Ana Saturday for the sea and took possession of the pretty Craig cottage at Arch Beach. That evening they picked on the beach and enjoyed the usual merriment of such an occasion. The following day they shared in swimming and hiking parties, continuing until mid-day when they returned to the cottage to a delicious rabbit dinner brought from Santa Ana by Mr. Couchman who earned the highest praise of the merry group for his thoughtfulness.

In the afternoon a visit to the Devil's Blow-Hole and other interesting places caused the hours to fly. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Couchman were the Misses Dean Lowery, Hannah Marston, Addie Mae Leach, Dorothy Beckman and Fae Parsons.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held its June meeting Tuesday afternoon at Spurgeon Memorial church with Mrs. A. B. Tedford, vice president, presiding and the devotional service led by Mrs. Thomas Blair.

The Union voted to fill a number of comfort bags to send to the sailor lads at the Home Center in San Diego. Mrs. L. L. Harter, in charge of the local Americanization work among the Mexicans, made a request for clothing for men, women and children and also small jars for fruit. Those willing to give such articles are requested to call Mrs. Harter (phone 1340M) and they will be called for next Tuesday morning.

A solo, "The Swallow," was sung by Mrs. Lula Johnson with Miss Carrie Seaton as accompanist. "Social Morality" was the subject for the afternoon and Mrs. Sarah Hutchins in charge of the program, had secured the Rev. H. G. Burgess, pastor of the Richland avenue Methodist church, to speak on the subject.

After a second interesting solo by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Tedford talked informally on the juvenile work in this city. The next meeting was announced for July to be held in Birch park.

REV. L. HARTER WILL DELIVER CLASS SERMON

As the text for the baccalaureate service, to be held Sunday night for the graduating class of the Santa Ana polytechnic high school, the Rev. L. Harter, pastor of the United Brethren church, has chosen "A Man Sent from God."

The service is to be held in the high school auditorium, starting at 8 o'clock. It was announced today. All Santa Ana churches, with the exception of the First Christian, will be closed so as to allow their congregations to attend the school service. The First Christian church will be open to care for the overflow.

The Rev. H. G. Burgess, pastor of the Richland Avenue M. E. church, will preside at the baccalaureate service.

The event will be the first public appearance of the graduating students. Students of the class are to march into the auditorium and occupy a reserved section in the room. In charge of the Santa Ana Ministerial association, the program for the services has been arranged as follows:

March, "To Victory."
Overture, "Light Cavalry"—High school orchestra.
Doxology—Congregation.
Invocation—The Rev. Moffett Rhodes.
Scripture reading—The Rev. E. J. Nickel.
Solo, "From Love to Light"—Robert Bradford.
Prayer—The Rev. Samuel Edgar.
Song, "And the Glory of the Lord"—High school mixed chorus.
Sermon, "A Man Sent from God"—The Rev. L. Harter.
Hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name"—Congregation.
Benediction—The Rev. Perry Schrock.
March—High school orchestra.

Court Notes

Bond Sale Date Fixed
The county supervisors have fixed June 23 as the date for sale of the $28,000 Harper-Fairview school bonds. An opinion approving the bond proceedings was received yesterday from O'Melveny, Milliken, Tuller and MacNeil, bond attorneys.

Held to Answer
Charles Stanfield, of Wineville, was held to answer at a preliminary hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison today, in connection with a charge of perjury. It was alleged that he misrepresented the age of June Blanche Doyle, 17, when obtaining a marriage license in Santa Ana recently. Deputy District Attorney Kenneth H. Burns conducted the prosecution today. Attorney O. A. Jacobs appearing for the defense.

Wife Charges Cruelty
Blanche Jensen, of Anaheim, was plaintiff today in a suit for divorce filed in superior court against James A. Jensen. Mrs. Jensen charges cruelty and alleges that her husband sought the society of other women. They were married in Santa Ana in 1920 and separated June 2 this year. Attorney Kenneth H. Burns represents Mrs. Jensen.

Appeal Is Taken
F. Rosalez, alleged "peeping Tom," who was charged with vagrancy following his arrest at Delhi dance hall, was found guilty by a jury in Justice K. E. Morrison's court yesterday. Justice Morrison sentenced him to a term of 110 days in the county jail, whereupon an appeal was taken by Attorney S. B. Kaufman, representing Rosalez.

The late James A. Porter, city marshal of Newport Beach, who committed suicide in a Glendale sanitarium, left an estate valued at $5000, according to his will, which was filed for probate in superior court by his widow, Miriam S. Porter. The widow is sole heir.

Petition Is Filed
A petition has been filed in superior court by Henry Cozad and C. C. Cozad, to probate the will of Elizabeth M. Hillyard, which involves an estate valued at $7050. Approximately 70 persons are named in the will for cash bequests ranging from $1 to $500. Personal effects of the deceased are distributed among a group of other legatees.

To Quiet Title
The Red Fox Orchards company has filed suit in superior court against the Foothill Valencia Grow-

Today's Useful Hint On Jam and Jelly Making

—By Elizabeth Palmer—

Once you have tried the new short-boil method of making jams and jellies with Certo you will discard the old, uncertain way as an out of date piece of kitchen drudgery.

Certo is a pure fruit product—the jellifying substance of fruit refined and bottled.

Certo jams and jellies jelly perfectly—just tenderly firm every time—never a failure. They taste better, because the delicate, delicious, fresh flavor of your fruit is not boiled away. They look prettier, because you preserve their bright, natural color. You get half again more jam or jelly from your fruit because you save the juice which used to boil away.

A book of nearly one hundred recipes for delicious jams, jellies and marmalades comes with each bottle of Certo. Even if you are not an experienced cook, you can make perfect jams and jellies every time the Certo way.

Your grocer carries Certo, or you can send 10c (for postage) and get a trial half-size bottle which will make from 4 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address Douglas-Peddie Corporation, 1569 Granite Building, Rochester, N. Y.

ABNER HALLUM PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Abner J. Hallum, 54, secretary-manager of the Interstate Finance company, 307 North Main street, died in his home, 510 South Ross street, at 10:30 a. m., today, after an illness which had kept him confined to his home since March 1.

Hallum had been a resident of Santa Ana for the last three years, coming here from Chickasha, Okla., with his family.

Illness had prevented him from attending to his duties for the last three and a half months.

Hallum was a native of Georgia. His wife, Mrs. Mattie D. Hallum, survives him, as do three sons, Paul, of Arlington; Norman, of Hanford, and Ralph, Santa Ana. He also is survived by a sister and brother, Mrs. Mattie Kinmore, Santa Ana, and Ira Hallum, Los Angeles.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

SHOE SHINE, $1000

WAILUKU, Maui, June 8.—A couple of Hawaiian cowboys recently spent $1000 in getting their boots shined. Finding a large lump of greasy substance on the beach sands, they gave their boots and saddles a good oiling with it. A passerby then told them that the lump was ambergris, valued by perfumers at $70 to $80 an ounce.

BITTEN BY RATTLESNAKE

To Foreclose Lien

Suit has been filed in superior court by the Harbor Construction company against R. Heninger, to foreclose a mechanic's lien of $225 against land near Santa Ana.

The lumber trade alone, handled by Orange County, San Bernardino and Riverside Counties will more than pay the carrying charges, interest and sinking fund of our harbor bonds; 200,000,000 board feet are used in these communities annually. A saving of $1.00 per thousand feet will do this. (Get the figures from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce). If the Harbor Bonds carry a boom will follow; if defeated, a gloom.

3 ACQUITTED AND 1 GUILTY IN RIOT CASE

Three defendants were acquitted, while one, Frank Bradford, was found guilty of a lesser offense, when the jury returned its findings, late last night, in the case of accused La Habra election rioters.

The jury found Frank Bradford guilty of "riot," which is defined as an attempt to move toward an act that would be a riot if it was committed. Riot is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $500, a jail sentence not exceeding six months, or both fine and jail sentence. Bradford is scheduled to receive his sentence Friday, at 1:30 p. m., before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

John Bradford, father of Frank, and William Noble and Carl Miller were acquitted by the jury, which deliberated from 3 p. m. to 10:34 p. m.

The four men had been charged with rioting, a high misdemeanor, carrying a penalty not to exceed two years' imprisonment. The charge grew out of an altercation near the polling place in La Habra on the night of the city election there on April 12.

The defendants, it was shown at the five-day trial, had been part of a crowd grouped about the polling place while the votes were being counted. When a police car, carrying Leo Martin, then city marshal, and two of his deputies, Roscoe and Rawley Bennett, arrived, Frank Bradford approached the car and had words with Martin about an alleged attack by Martin on John Bradford. Others grouped about the car and shortly a fight started between Martin and Bill Noble. Each side alleged that the other was aggressor. Noble, who had a gun, subsequently was tried on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. Found guilty, he was sentenced to serve five years in the county jail. The rioting charge was brought against him, also, as well as against his companions.

200 FULLERTON RESIDENTS AT HARBOR MEET

About 200 residents of Fullerton and vicinity were present last night at a meeting in the Fullerton union high school auditorium, at which the proposed harbor bond issue was the principal subject discussed. L. B. Steward presided.

Very little opposition to the bond issue was expressed from the floor of the meeting, the principal speech against the development project being made by S. J. Jackman, of Santa Ana, it was said.

Speaking for the bonds, J. H. Hale, of Placentia, pointed out that the port development offered the best possible opportunity for bringing in new money and increasing assessed valuations, which, in turn, not only would pay for the harbor but also would help to carry out water conservation when plans for the water bond election are perfected.

Ralph McFadden, member of the county harbor commission, explained that the bonds are to carry 4½ per cent interest and are to run 20 years. It is the intention of the commission, in the event the bonds are voted, McFadden said, to fix the entrance first, selling only enough bonds to do the work. Thereafter, he declared, the commission would ask the county supervisors to issue only such bonds, from time to time, as the money is needed.

The loss of life at the entrance was deplored and only one voice was raised against this argument for the passage of the bonds.

ORANGE COUNTY NATIVE PASSES IN RANCH HOME

John G. Carrillo, 66, a native of California and Orange county, as were his father and grandfather before him, and a member of possibly the oldest family in California, is dead in his home on his ranch in El Toro.

He died Tuesday, following a year's illness. Funeral services will be conducted in the St. Boniface Catholic church, Anaheim, at 9 a. m. tomorrow, and burial will be made in the Anaheim Catholic cemetery.

Mr. Carrillo is survived by his wife, Mrs. Petra Carrillo, and seven children, Bessie Carrillo, Mrs. Ed M. Rosenbaum, Jerome, Ben, George, Randolph and Carlos Carrillo.

With the death of Mr. Carrillo, another chapter in California's history has been written. The deceased was the son of Ramon Carrillo, a native of Orange county, who, in turn, was the son of a man around whom much of the history of the entire Southland was written.

It was on Ramon Carrillo's ranch, in San Diego county, that Gen. John Fremont made his headquarters while in the Southland after the Civil war.

Paid with Gold Nuggets

It was Ramon Carrillo, who, at one time, drove 1500 head of steers overland to San Francisco, in the days of the gold rush, to return to his home with a trunk filled to the brim with gold nuggets, received in payment for the cattle.

When the cattle arrived in the northern city, Carrillo received a hand full of nuggets for each steer, collecting the money in the big sombreros worn by the cattlemen who had charge of the trip.

The trunk, in which the money was kept and returned to Southern California, still is in possession of the Carrillo family. It is two feet long, two and a half feet wide and four feet deep.

Jose Sepulveda, a great uncle of the pioneer who died Tuesday, was at one time one of the largest land holders in California. He lived on a ranch where the Raitt dairy now stands, on West First street, and his land holdings took in all of Orange county. Other members of the Sepulveda family held Spanish land grants that included all of the territory from where the Orange county line now stands to a point north of San Pedro and which extended through the Santa Monica valley and took in a part of where Los Angeles now stands.

Field Large Grants

Ramon Carrillo, father of John G. Carrillo, also held large land grants from the Spanish government. One grant was of 24 square miles, in San Diego county, and another included 18 square miles of land on some of which now stands the city of Riverside. Other members of the Carrillo family held equally as large holdings in northern California.

John G. Carrillo was a descendant of one of the original six Spanish families to come to this country from Spain—so many years ago that members of the family do not remember the date. His father was born in Orange county and so was his grandfather and members of the family are not sure but what other descendants before that were born here. It was before the days of the missions—before there was any California.

John G. Carrillo was born in Orange county. He has moved Anaheim and has never lived out from one ranch to another many times, but always within the boundaries of Orange county.

RECOLLECTIONS OF EARLY DAYS FEATURE MEET

With W. A. Taylor officiating as program chairman, members of the Santa Ana Rotary club yesterday were carried back 20 years to their place of residence, their occupation and their ambitions, in a series of questions asked by the chairman of individual members.

At the same time, the chairman brought out the present ambition of the men who responded to his questions.

"What were you doing, where were you residing, and what was your ambition 20 years ago; what is your present ambition?" were the questions put to the men Taylor called on. Because of the large membership, it was impossible for each member to have opportunity to answer.

The answers revealed that most of the men resided in the east and middle western states 20 years ago and that a vast majority of them had realized their ambitions of that period.

Ambitions of the present concerned more the sons of the men responding than of the individuals themselves.

Plans for betterment of programs of the club were discussed at some length during the session.

Fred C. Rowland, president, and Mrs. Rowland and their two daughters will leave here Saturday for Denver, to attend the annual convention of Rotary International.

BOARD APPROVES GRADUATION LIST

Members of the board of education last night approved the high school graduation list. The list, submitted and recommended by Principal D. K. Hammond, contained 195 names, including those of students who took a prominent part in recent escapades. While stressing the need of maintaining discipline by imposing suitable penalties, it was agreed that withholding graduation would be too severe a punishment.

Mrs. Spangler Urges 'Yes' Votes

By MRS. FAY R. SPANGLER
President of the Santa Ana City Federation of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The future progress of Orange county lies in tomorrow's vote on the harbor bonds. The Parent-Teacher movement, wherever located, stands for everything that spells progress and for all measures designed to protect the lives of our children. With these considerations in view, I believe it a moral duty on the part of every P.-T. A. member to vote "yes" on both issues at tomorrow's election.

ORANGE COUNTY BARBERS PLAN ORGANIZATION

Furtherance of mutual business interests, the raising of service standards and legitimate protection of the trade as a skilled and highly specialized calling among the objectives of a proposed organization of master barbers in the southern part of Orange county, according to Carl M. Becker, proprietor of the National Barber shop, this city.

The advisability of forming such an organization was discussed at a meeting held Monday night in the Garden Grove Inn, attended by master barbers from all parts of the county. At that time it was suggested that the proposed organization be organized into two units or sections, one in the northern and one in the southern part of the county. The first named section would take in Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea, La Habra, Buena Park and surrounding territory. The southern part would include Santa Ana, Orange, Tustin, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Balboa, Laguna Beach and San Juan Capistrano.

Further steps toward perfecting the organization will be taken at a meeting to be called within a few days, Becker declared.

SANTA ANA WOMAN PASSES IN KANSAS

Word was received here yesterday by Mrs. Margaret May, of the death, yesterday, in Neodesha, Kas., of Mrs. Minnie Newman, of this city. The body is expected to arrive here Saturday.

Stricken with paralysis last December, Mrs. Newman left here in March for Neodesha, accompanied by her brother, Dr. O. D. Sharp, who came here from Neodesha to take charge of her.

Under the care of her brother, Mrs. Newman appeared to improve in health for a time immediately following her arrival in the Kansas city. News of her death came as a surprise to friends, who were familiar with the progress she was making.

She was the widow of W. R. Newman, prominent real estate man and ranch owner, who was killed here a few years ago when a Southern Pacific train struck a Crown stage. Newman was a passenger.

Mrs. Newman is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Vivian Meeks, who resides in Los Angeles. Mrs. May was a sister-in-law.

ON QUESTION OF COST

ORANGE, Cal., June 9, 1926. Editor Register: In regard to the bonds would like to have you publish in your paper what percent they are to carry and when they terminate. I have asked several men who are boosting for the bonds, but they say that they had not thought that far.

So why buy something because someone says buy and then consider the cost later? Too much of that has been done in the past and many regret such steps they have taken and lost thereby. In the Good Book we read: "Which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first and counteth the cost?" etc. Let us be very thoughtful about what we are doing. Be sure you are right and then go ahead.

—E. J. ZELLER, Route 2, Orange, Calif.

Editor's questions, the bonds, will carry a 4-2 per cent interest and will run for 20 years. Interest and sinking fund, on the basis of present assessed valuations, will make the bonds cost the taxpayers six cents per annum on each $100 of assessed valuation, or six cents on each $100 of actual property value.

MANY PRESENT AT ADVERTISING CLUB PROGRAM

A large attendance of business men and women enjoyed the program offered at last night's dinner-meeting of the Advertising Club of Santa Ana by members of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles. The meeting was held at St. Ann's Inn.

Officials of the Santa Ana club had little to do except to arrange the dinner, as Bert A. Butterworth, chairman of the meeting, took charge of the entire program as soon as the meal had been finished.

Bubbling over with pep and wit, Butterworth steered the proceedings over a happy course. A. Carman Smith, who originally was scheduled to preside over the meeting, was unable to be present because of illness.

The program included talks by Herman A. Nater, vice president of the Bank of Italy, and Harry S. Carroll, advertising manager of the Broadway Department store, Los Angeles. Vocal selections were given by Mr. and Mrs. George MacGregor, with Miss Gladys High acting as accompanist.

The program was as follows: Opening chorus, by Los Angeles club members, "Hail to Advertising," official song of the club, written by A. Carman Smith, "Advertising and Selling," Harry S. Carroll.

Soprano solo, (a) "I Passed by Your Window," (b) "A Dream," Mrs. George MacGregor, with Miss High at the piano.

Baritone solo, (a) "Friend of Mine," (b) "Mother Machree," George MacGregor.

"Impersonations," Herman A. Nater.

Many business men outside the fold of the local club and several members of the Business and Professional Women's club attended the meeting. Wilbur Barr, president of the Santa Ana club, welcomed the visitors to the city.

Last night's meeting gave the Los Angeles club's contact committee a 100 per cent record in visiting every advertising club in California during the last few months.

40 ET 8 TO HOLD HI-PASS MEETING

Big Forty and Eight men from four Southern California counties, Riverside, Orange, San Diego and Imperial, and Yuma, Ariz., will stage a joint promenade and wrecking party at Hi-Pass, on the international boundary line, Sunday, June 13, according to Joseph Plank, chief de gare of the Orange county vulture of the box car organization.

A barbecue will be served at noon and the "business" session will follow as soon thereafter as practicable, it was said. The Imperial county hommes will act as hosts. About 50 members of the organization in Orange county are expected to be present, Plank declared.

SEVERE CASE OF ITCHY PIMPLES

On Face and Neck. Lost Rest. Cuticura Heals.

"I had a severe case of pimples. They broke out on my face and neck and were small and red. The pimples festered and scaled over, and itched and burned so that I lost my rest. Scratching caused eruptions, and my face was disfigured. The trouble lasted about two and a half years.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Rex Dale Knight, 559 Olive St., Eugene, Ore., July 28, 1925.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are ideal for daily toilet uses. Soap 25c. Ointment 25c and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 2, Malden, Mass. Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

REVOTE PROVES NECESSARY FOR SELECTION OF STUDENT CHIEF

Close Race Between Harry Rademacher and Judson Riley in Preliminaries

ALL OTHER OFFICES IN SCHOOL FILLED

Most Popular Girl Overwhelms 3 Opponents in Vice President Contest

Upon the outcome of the balloting today in the Santa Ana polytechnic high school rests the election of student body president. Harry Rademacher and Judson Riley were candidates for the office.

The preliminary voting, held yesterday, was closely contested, with Rademacher and Riley remaining in the campaign, while Dean Millen, captain of the Poly football team, was eliminated.

From today's outlook, however, Rademacher will win through the support Millen has thrown to him.

All other elective student body offices were decided without the necessity of a revote. The inauguration of the officers will be held at the student body assembly Thursday. At that time, Miss Mary Jane Owens, acting student body president, will hand over the gavel of power to her successor.

In the elections, yesterday, the results for president were: Rademacher, 247; Riley, 175; Millen 108.

Miss Virginia Brannon, "most popular high school girl," swamped three opponents in winning the Vice presidency. The vote was: Miss Brannon, 315; Clarence Sprague, 91; Miss Janet Wilson, 78; Ralph Selway, 48.

Miss Gayle Baldwin polled 340 votes to 208 for Miss Clara Kate Owens and was elected secretary. Louis Owens received 251 votes to 240 for Howard Moore for commissioner of finance. Harvey Bear is new commissioner of athletics. He received 287 votes to 187 for Stanley Norton and 56 for Fred Fosdick. David Roberts was elected commissioner of publications over Chester Chandler, receiving 313 votes to Chandler's 201. Terry Stephenson defeated Roy Griset, by a vote of 332 to 192, for commission of forensics.

Members of the student self-government committee were chosen. The boys elected Chester Siegel and Hubert Prior and the girls named Miss Mary Bruner and Miss Marcia Keeler.

The election board was composed of Gerald Twist, chairman; Willard White, David Weil, Mary Jane Owens, Sherrill Spurgeon and Catherine Best.

HUGHES TO BE IN FLEET COMMAND CASE OF FRONK IS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur has announced that Admiral Robison, commander of the U. S. fleet, who is being relieved at his own request, will be assigned to command of the Seattle district. He was succeeded by Adm. C. F. Hughes as fleet commander.

Adm. J. C. Chase, at Seattle, will be assigned to command of division 4 of the battle fleet. Vice Admiral McKean will be assigned to command the 11th district, at San Diego.

Adm. G. H. Burrage is to relieve Adm. Rogers Welles as commander in European waters. Admiral Robertson, commanding at San Diego, will become commander of the scouting fleet.

Countess Vera Is To Wed American

LONDON, June 9.—Countess Cathcart is about to marry a 20-year-old American, according to the Daily Graphic.

The bridegroom is Gideon Boissevain, member of a well known Dutch-American family, the newspaper said.

"We met only a few weeks ago—It has been a case of pure romance," the couple was quoted as saying. "Naturally we are most shy regarding the whole affair."

CRITES RESIGNS AS INSTRUCTOR IN HIGH SCHOOL

School Trustees Act Upon New Appointments Made To S. A. Teaching Staffs

Adding to this year's already large turnover in the teaching personnel of the Santa Ana city schools were several new resignations and appointments, acted upon at the board of education meeting last night in the board rooms.

Heading the list of resignations was that of W. F. Crites, head of the commercial department of the high school and one of the best known teachers in the city system. While no reason for leaving was given in the resignation, it is understood that he will join the Los Angeles city school system.

Home Teacher Resigns Another resignation, which will mean a distinct loss to the city, is that of L. Monroe Sharpless, teacher in the county juvenile home, who is leaving to accept a more attractive offer in Los Angeles.

Another department head to leave the high school staff is Louise Mansfield, head of the music department, to go to the Los Angeles city schools.

Other resignations acted upon were those of Miriam C. Wright, kindergarten teacher; Alice G. Clark, McKinley school, and Gertrude E. Curtis, modern language department, Julia C. Lathrop junior high school.

On recommendation of the teachers' committee, headed by Trustee Charles F. Smith, the following new teachers were elected for the 1926-27 school year.

High school—Cecil C. Stewart, George B. Holmes, Diana W. Anderson and Clarence Westgard.

Junior high schools—Beatrice Louise Nebel, Maurine Sims, Rush Farnsworth and Ada L. Justke.

Elementary schools—Lillian Johnson, Hazel Kinsell, Elmore Thatcher, Louise Young and Lucy M. McDermott.

Given Salary Increase Among those given an increase in salary were J. Russell Bruff, George W. Duncan and Jennie Lasby, members of the junior college faculty, whose compensation was fixed at $3000 each, the maximum allowed for junior college teachers.

T. H. Glenn, member of the English department of the junior college and the high school, was promoted to the head of that department, taking the place of May E. Murphy, who has resigned to join the Los Angeles city schools.

Senate Confirms Board Members

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The senate has confirmed the president's nominees to the board of tax appeals, after having wrangled long over their fitness.

Opposition to four members was on the ground that they had served in the international revenue bureau. The board passes on appeals for tax refunds.

The members confirmed include: Twelve-year terms: Charles R. Arundell, Oregon; John J. Marquette, Montana; Logan Morris, Utah.

Six-year term: John B. Milliken, Arizona.

YOST WEST END TO BE CLOSED FOR SUMMER

The West End theater was closed today and the doors will remain locked until about the first of September, it was announced by E. D. Yost, owner of the Yost Broadway, the Yost on Spurgeon street and the West End.

Yost pointed out that business during the summer season hardly justified maintenance of programs at the West End.

Don Juden, son-in-law of Yost, has been placed in charge of the Yost on Spurgeon street. The Connell Players will occupy the boards there four nights each week, starting Sunday. In addition to the stock plays, the Connell Players will present each evening a feature picture. First-run pictures will rule at the playhouse on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

The Yost lease on the Temple explored some months ago and that playhouse has been in darkness virtually ever since.

Closing of the Temple and the West End leaves but four picture houses in operation in the city, the Yost Broadway, the Yost on Spurgeon, the West Coast-Walker and the Princess.

"The year has been a great revelation to me of the wonderful things, big things, that our organization stands for and I feel greatly honored that the federation membership should again want me as its president."

"We did hope to leave the children of Santa Ana a monument of playgrounds this year. While the park project has been deferred—I will not say defeated—our hope is that at some future time this dream of ours will come true."

The coming year should see us concentrating our thoughts and efforts on where we believe our true work lies and that is to extend a helping hand to our boys and girls, who, through adverse circumstances, have become wards of the juvenile court."

Expresses Appreciation In reviewing the work of the administration year now drawing to a close, Mrs. Spangler called attention to the nutrition work carried on in the Mexican schools. In this connection, she took occasion to commend the splendid work of Mrs. C. E. Price, chairman of philanthropy. She also expressed her appreciation of the aid extended by the Women's Bible class, of the First Christian church, and the various service clubs in the city.

Discussing plans for the coming year, the president announced that, in order to raise funds for various requirements, the city federation will operate a booth at the county fair in September. Mrs. Ray Wychoff, president of the John Muir P.-T. A., will have charge of arrangements.

"In laying plans for the new year, I see a future of possibilities opening before me even greater than the results already achieved," she remarked. She envisaged the development of the Parent-Teacher movement as bringing to bear in the solving of juvenile problems the power of public opinion through organized effort.

"If the movement continues to carry on its distinctive work of quickening the individual conscience in dealing with community problems, I feel sure that its potential power for good will have no limit."

JUVENILE RELIEF WORK WILL BE PRINCIPAL OBJECTIVE OF PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Maintenance, through proper agencies, of adequate relief and educational facilities for underprivileged children in the city, including the care and handling of juvenile offenders, will be one of the main objectives of the Santa Ana City Federation of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers for the coming year, according to Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, re-elected president of the organization.

It was also announced that chairman of departments for the coming year would be announced in the latter part of August.

Commenting upon her re-election to the presidency of the city federation, Mrs. Spangler said: "I don't know how to express my appreciation for this new mark of approval and confidence. What little I have accomplished during my administration has been due in a great measure to the willing and intelligent support given me by my officers and co-workers, and to the hearty co-operation extended by the rank and file of the various local associations comprising the federation."

President is Grateful "I am glad to say that the various tasks I have had to confront from time to time have served to broaden my life. Every time some worthwhile undertaking has presented itself, I have not only felt grateful for the opportunity of serving our youth, but doubly so for the privilege of working with some of the finest women in the city of Santa Ana."

"The year has been a great revelation to me of the wonderful things, big things, that our organization stands for and I feel greatly honored that the federation membership should again want me as its president."

HARBOR FUTURE TO BE DECIDED TOMORROW AT COUNTY POLLS

Two-Thirds Majority Required for Passage of Bonds for Development

TWO PROPOSITIONS TO BE VOTED UPON

$650,000 Needed for Entrance Work, $550,000 For Inside Improvement

Tomorrow voters of Orange county will determine the future of the land-locked harbor at Newport Beach.

The issue will be determined by the vote on two propositions: one, that $650,000 in bonds shall be issued for the repair of the entrance; two, that $550,000 in bonds shall be issued for work inside the harbor.

Two-thirds of the total vote cast will be required for the bonds if they are to be approved. The total registration for the county is 38,114 voters.

Neither pro-harbor nor anti-harbor workers expect more than a 60 per cent vote cast, if that much. The polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Only registered voters may cast ballots. The election precincts generally used in county and state elections will be used tomorrow. In Santa Ana, the precincts will not be consolidated as they were at the recent city election.

Under the heading of entrance work, the following is proposed: Repair of west jetty; building a jetty on east side of entrance; placing of proper revetments on heel of west jetty; dredging of entrance. The jetties would be 600 feet apart at the outer end and about 1000 feet apart at the shore ends. The channel would be widened to 300 feet and dredged to a depth of 25 feet.

Under the heading of entrance work, the following is proposed: Dredging of shallow areas for boat and yacht anchorage; filling in of area to be used for county waterfront park; building of small wharves; deepening of turning basin and county channel to 25 feet and widening to 300 feet.

Man Crushed to Death by Truck

MODESTO, Calif., June 9.—Crushed beneath the heavy wheels of a milk truck, Earl Cowan, 18-year-old Modesto youth, died yesterday before medical aid could be administered.

Standing beside him at his death was Dick Roland, a boyhood friend and driver of the truck.

Cowan, Roland related, missed his footing when he tried to jump to the driver's platform. Before Roland could apply the brakes, the wheels had passed over his chum's abdomen.

No. 13 of a Series Santa Ana Soda Works CHAS. V. DAVIS Vertly, Orange County is a thirsty county! The Santa Ana Soda Works sold 1,440,000 bottles of beverages in Orange County last year! What chance has an honest bootlegger against such competition? The Santa Ana Soda Works is a thriving concern; growing, and adding new temptations to its palate-teasers. "Choc-Malt" was originated by this concern; is protected by copyright laws. Orange Crush and Lemon Crush are bottled by them; Western Dry Ginger Ale is another famous beverage; and they bottle full lines of others; last year they sold 30,000 cases (24 bottles each) of Eastside. It takes nine trucks to keep deliveries up to date, besides two salesmen's service cars. Jester Beverages, as the full line is called, are the most popular bottled drinks in Orange County. Hymns of praises for these thirst-quenchers! The above are part of a series published by Vanderma & Son to inform the public of Santa Ana manufacturers, their products, resources, and value to the community.

No. 14 of a Series Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture Co. Three young men have built up a remarkable business in Santa Ana in five years. The Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture Company started on Fourth street in 1920, by Andrew Lykke, John Hanson and Armond Faccou, now occupies a spacious shop building on East Fifth street, built on their own property. This concern makes to order fine cabinet work, store fixtures, show cases, sash, doors, built-in fixtures, and all forms of cabinet artistry. It employs fifteen skilled men continually; the payroll is close to $600 per week. Their products are distributed all over Southern California, and have become known as the standard of their line. The value of the annual production is close to $100,000.00. A fine, clean, prosperous business.

SHASTA CREEK ON SPRING RAMPAGE

McCLOUD, Calif., June 9.—Mud creek, filled to bursting with mud and ashes from the melting eastern face of Mt. Shasta, has gone on another spring rampage.

The stream is being held in its channel by a recently completed dam on the lower slope of the mountain, at the point where the torrent jumped its boundaries in 1924. Twelve square miles of land were covered to a depth of 10 feet with mud, playing havoc with railroads and vehicle roads. The dam is so far functioning admirably and there is no fear that the events of 1924 will be repeated. Fish life, however, is expected to suffer immeasurably from the polluted condition which has spread from Mud creek into Elk creek, thence to McCLOUD river, Pit river and on the Sacramento river.

Redding reports the Sacramento abnormally cloudy at that point.

Stage and Screen

Charlie Chaplin and Georgia Hale in a scene from his latest and greatest comedy, "The Gold Rush," now playing at the West Coast-Walker theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

In "Stella Dallas," the picture closing at the Yost Broadway theater tonight, the many admirers of Ronald Colman, favorite and magnetic leading man, will have an opportunity of seeing him in a characterization entirely different than any he has hitherto attempted.

As Stephen Dallas, the well-groomed and modern young business man, who, in a moment of regret, marries far beneath his station only to find the girl he thought he had lost, Colman is given opportunity for the greatest work of his career.

This young actor, whose popularity seems ever on the increase, puts his entire ability and soul into this production, and according to his own words, "enjoyed it exceedingly."

"It is exhilarating," he said, "to be permitted to interpret a role which really means something—a part which is something more than playing up to some pretty girl."

"Stella Dallas" is a story greatly out of the ordinary, with human interest galore—in fact, I might call it the epic of modern American middle-class life—not the 'Main Street' or 'Babbit' sort of thing, but a real drama, woven about real people such as may be found in every town and city, whose problems are perhaps more complicated and more trying than those of either the higher or lower classes.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Charlie Chaplin's new picture, "The Gold Rush," now playing at the West Coast-Walker theater, is a comedy drama with a story of laughter and tears and of hope deferred. It is a rugged story with the spectacle of a valiant weakling in search of gold in the biting blizzards of the north.

"The Gold Rush" brings Charlie Chaplin to the topmost peak of his dazzling career. His work in this picture will place him secure as the greatest pantomimist of all recorded time.

This story of the Alaskan gold rush, interwoven with all the jabbings of fate that well can come to one who is typical of life—almost reaching the goal, and watching its shadow disappear with the pained expression that only a Chaplin can wear—is a story crowned with the majesty of enterprise and the fullness of life.

This comedy-drama-tragedy of the Alaska of bygone days is called Chaplin's greatest picture for two reasons. It is said to represent his intellectual and artistic growth fresh from his dramatic triumph, "A Woman of Paris," and secondly, it runs the entire gamut of human emotions; the blended panorama of life, the subtle and vital essence of it, the defeat and the victory and growth of a soul in struggle.

HAWAIIAN TORNADO UNROOFS BUILDINGS

HONOLULU, T. H., June 9.—Roofs of several waterfront buildings and Honolulu's lumber yards were strewn along the wharves or tossed into backyards by a miniature tornado that ran amuck for several minutes. The small twister accompanied a kona storm that swept all Oahu and drenched the island with rain for more than two hours.

After unroofing a few unimportant buildings, the tornado made for the federal building, missed it by a few feet and then died a natural death in the harbor.

The damage was not heavy and no one was injured, but traffic was impeded in spots.

All in all, the storm was welcomed, for it increased the water supply in the drier sections.

Court Notes

Decree Quits Title

Clyde A. Payne, of Orange, has been granted a decree in superior court, against Percy W. Clarkson, quieting title to property in Orange that Payne had sold to Clarkson.

Clarkson brought the suit originally, asking the court to compel Payne to issue a deed to the property. Payne filed a cross-complaint, alleging that Clarkson had failed to comply with his contract of purchase and had not made all payments due.

Superior Judge George W. Freeman, of Riverside, presided over the trial in place of Judge E. J. Marks.

Decree Is Granted

A decree quieting title to property near Placentia was granted by Superior Judge Freeman, of Riverside, who presided over two cases brought by W. H. Prewitt and H. H. Crooke against George E. Parmenter, Bird V. Beebe and other defendants. Beebe contested the actions.

Bank Is Plaintiff

The First Trust and Savings bank, of Pasadena, was plaintiff today in a suit filed in superior court here against Mr. and Mrs. William P. Boland, to quiet title to property at Newport Beach.

PRINCESS THEATER

In "His Buddies Wife," now showing at the Princess theater, Glenn Hunter, the youthful favorite of stage and screen, has a role which gives him an opportunity to display the histrionic qualities which have endeared him to millions. Glenn is pictured as a young newspaper reporter who marches away to war as soon as America declares herself. Glenn falls in love with a tent-mate overseas with whom he becomes fast friends. They are always sharing each other's sorrows and happiness.

One is to be sent on a perilous mission into No Man's Land—and which one it is to be finally decided by the toss of a coin. Hunter then comes back to a New England town, where he meets his buddy's wife, and is torn between the love of her and his devotion to his buddy. Later, the supposedly-dead doughboy also returns to the village. Hunter's acting and his final great sacrifice, gives a good many tugs at the heart strings. Considerable comedy is injected by the village gossips who wag, wag, wag!

YOST THEATER

"Bluebeard's Seven Wives," with an all-star cast comprising Ben Lyon, Blanche Sweet, Lois Wilson, Dorothy Sebastian, Diana Kane, Sam Hardy, Dick Bernard, Andrew Mack, Dan Pennell and Wilfred Lytell, closes at the Yost theater tonight.

The story of "Bluebeard's Seven Wives" traces the career of a young bank clerk who suddenly finds himself thrust into the limelight as a popular movie star. All is not so bad of roses, however, as his press agent insists on exploiting him as a modern Bluebeard, and this is neither to the bank clerk's liking nor to the liking of the girl he has selected to be his wife.

Jess Took Last Chance

"After three years of doctoring for my stomach I became discouraged and swore I wouldn't take anything else. I was bloated with gas all the time. Someone praised MAYR'S so highly that I decided to take a chance. I am now feeling like a new man." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.—Adv.

Pacific Military Academy Culver City, Calif.

The "Primary Function" of the Pacific Military Academy, is to furnish the much needed "Personal Touch and Individual Instruction," which on account of the overcrowded conditions, many of our Public Schools cannot supply.

"Mass Instruction" may have its place in higher institutions of learning, but for less mature minds, there is no substitute for the direct "Pupil and Teacher" contact method, wherein the teacher can say to the pupil: "This is your weak point; correct it by this method," or "This is your strong point, cultivate it by this method."

PACIFIC has a "Fourfold" balanced system of objectives: "Culture"—"Information"—"Discipline" and "Practical Social and Industrial Application."

This program of "Objectives" is carried out by experienced instructors, who think and teach beyond the confines of a book. For the convenience of parents interested in the education and social welfare of their "Boy," an Information Bureau where literature may be secured without obligation, has been established at the office of

The building plan contemplates contracts as follows:

- (1) Boiler and laundry building.
- (2) Service building.
- (3) Ambulant building.
- (4) Semi-ambulant building.
- (5) Administration building.

The building plan contemplates contracts as follows:

- (a) General contract.
- (b) Plumbing and sheet metal contract.
- (c) Heating contract.

Separate sealed bids shall be submitted for the (a) general contract on each of the five buildings and (b) for the plumbing and sheet metal contract on each of the five buildings and (c) for the heating contract on each of the five buildings.

Separate sealed alternate lump bids shall be submitted for (a) the general contract on all five buildings, and for (b) the plumbing and sheet metal contract on all five buildings, and for (c) the heating contract on all five buildings.

A separate sealed bid shall be submitted for all classes of work on all buildings. The bids submitted shall be in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Riverside County, Riverside County Court House, Riverside, California; in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Orange County, Orange County Court House, Santa Ana, California; in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Imperial County, Imperial County Court House, El Centro, California. Copies of plans and specifications of said work and also blank forms suitable for use in bidding on said work may be obtained at the office of C. Stanley Wilson, Architect, 646 W. 9th St., Riverside, California; at the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Riverside County, Riverside County Court House, Riverside, California; at the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Orange County, Orange County Court House, Santa Ana, California; at the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Imperial County, Imperial County Court House, El Centro, California; and no bid will be considered which is not in accordance with and on the form herein referred to. A Twenty-Five Dollar ($25.00) deposit will be required for each copy of plans and specifications taken out. This deposit will be refunded upon the return of said copy of plans and specifications to the office from which it was secured within ten days from the date it was taken out from said office.

Each bidder must accompany his set of bids with a certified check or cashier's check made payable to the County of Riverside in a sum equal to ten percent (10%) of the highest total cost for all classes of work on all buildings, according to his separate bids or lump bid, which ever cost is the highest, as a guarantee that the bidder if awarded the contract, will enter into a written contract for the performance thereof satisfactory to said boards of supervisors of Riverside County, Orange County and Imperial County, respectively, and in addition there to the successful bidder will be required to file a bond in the sum of twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount of the contract, with sureties satisfactory to said boards of supervisors as a guarantee of faithful performance of the contract, and a further bond in the sum of fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the contract, with acceptable sureties to secure the payment of laborers, materialmen, etc. Each bid shall be sealed, submitted, received and filed on or before July 6th, 1926, at 10 o'clock a. m. in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of Riverside County, Riverside County Court House, Riverside, California, and sealed copies thereof shall be filed by the bidder on or before said date and time with the clerks of the respective boards of supervisors of Orange and Imperial counties shall not be opened prior to ten o'clock a. m., of July 6th, 1926.

The above mentioned certified check or cashier's check shall be given as evidence that the bidder will enter into a written contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the bidder refuses to enter into said written contract after being requested to do so in writing by the board of supervisors of Riverside County, California.

The board of supervisors of Orange County, together with the board of supervisors of Riverside County and the board of supervisors of Imperial County respectively, reserve the right to reject any and all bids not deemed advantageous to said Counties, and said boards further reserve the right to reject any or all said buildings. By order of the board of supervisors of Orange County, State of California, made this 26th day of May, 1926.

T. B. TALBERT,
Chairman, board of supervisors of Orange County, California.

Road Conditions and Fishing

By the National Automobile Club

Issued June 5

Early in July a splendid new scenic drive through the Palos Verdes estates will be opened to the public. It will extend from the end of Granvia La Costa, in the Lunada Bay district, around the coast for about eight miles, then climb the hill to a junction with the existing roads in Miraleste, which overlooks San Pedro.

Fishing in the South Fork of the Kern river is not very good at the present time, on account of so many cattle being in the stream. The best fishing is found in the mountains several miles beyond Fairview, although there is good fishing at Fairview. It requires an experienced fisherman to secure good results south of Fairview and fishing must be done early in the morning before the sun reaches the water.

The new highway between Laguna Beach and Serra is to be a crushed rock, surfaced road, and will not be completed for two or three months yet. The road is in bad shape now and is not open to the public. Motorists having business in this district can get through by using the old county road as a detour.

The new state highway through Summerland which is to be opened within a few days, is located one block north of the present highway through the town, crosses the present highway at northern end of town and skirts the ocean side of Ortega hill, eliminating this hill. New road is of gravel, six inches thick, with three inches of decomposed granite in excellent shape.

An air transportation service has recently been established between Little Lake and the High Sierra district, where the streams are well stocked with trout and wild life abounds. Regions which were heretofore accessible only by long hard trips by saddle may now be reached by a 30 minute trip in the air. Trout creek, a tributary of the South Fork of the Kern river, has a great volume of water at the present time and is a wonderful stream for fly casting. Fish creek, also a tributary of the South Fork of the Kern, is not large or rough, but contains an abundance of trout and the fishing is excellent for fly or bait. Little lake, 170 miles from

Los Angeles, is reached via Mint canyon, Palmdale, Mojave and Red Rock canyon. The roads are in a very good condition at the present time, the pavement ending at Mojave, leaving 71 miles of good dirt road which has recently been taken over by the state and is in excellent condition.

Road conditions along the Rim of the World drive and en route to Lake Arrowhead are improving daily. From Pinecrest to Lake Arrowhead, via Strawberry Flats and Alpine, the road was closed last week by the county and they are now working on the Kuffel Canyon road, which connects Lake Arrowhead with the Rim of the World drive on the way to Big Bear lake. The Rim drive, near Lakeview point, about five miles this side of Big Bear lake requires cautious driving. Practically all slides have been removed from the City Creek road, leaving it a fairly wide, comfortable road all the way. The Deep Creek cutoff is still somewhat narrow, and careful driving is advisable.

Widening and resurfacing work is now in progress in Santa Ana canyon. For a distance of about five miles north and east of Olive, stretches of the road are being improved. The highway is open to touring cars and light trucks, but will be closed to heavy trucks until about July 1.

The Manila wash, 17 miles east of Winslow, Ariz., on the National Old Trails route, will be rebuilt this summer. The detour at the present time is short and safe except for a few hours after a heavy storm. In stormy weather, motorists should make inquiry at either Winslow or Holbrook as to whether or not the wash can be crossed. Renewed efforts are now being made by towns along the National Old Trails route to have a few of the unnecessary kinks taken from the road, to the end that the distance from coast to coast may be materially decreased. This trail at the present time is 3095 miles in length from Los Angeles to Washington, D. C., and traverses 12 states, six west and six east of the Mississippi, and, according to statistics of national park officials, is the most popular transcontinental highway.

Lubrication is a scientific subject. Science as organized and used by "Union Oil of California" since 1883, presents to those motorists who want the best—

Aristo Motor Oil

Non-Carbonizing Western

Aristo Motor Oil is all lubrication, containing neither paraffin nor asphalt. The hard, flinty abrasive "carbon" that many motorists find on valves, cylinder heads and spark plugs after a few thousand miles of use never comes from this fine Western oil.

The small amount of residue that Aristo leaves is a fine, soft, fluffy substance, most of which blows out with the exhaust.

Motors in good condition which are lubricated with Aristo, therefore, run several years without the troubles, lay-ups and expense so often due to "carbon."

A further preventative of "carbon" is the use of non-detonating Union Gasoline with Aristo Motor Oil. This combination is probably the most effective that is known.

SANTA ANA Y. WILL CONDUCT SWIM CLASSES

The third annual free swimming campaign of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. will be staged next week.

Monday will be registration day, when boys and men wishing to learn to swim will register at the Y. M. C. A. and receive their class assignments.

Instruction will start on Wednesday morning and will continue for a series of six lessons, given daily on a regular schedule. Boys from 10 to 12 years of age, who cannot swim will be taught each morning from 9:30 to 10. Older boys, 12 to 15, who cannot swim, will have their lesson from 10 to 10:30.

Boys who can swim but who wish to improve their stroke, or learn to dive, will have a lesson period from 11 to 11:30 a. m.

Men of all ages, who cannot swim will be taught between 7:30 and 8 p. m.

The instruction will be free. It is not necessary that students be members of the Y. M. C. A. R. R. Russick will have charge of the classes.

Boy Scout Notes

Calendar
June 15—Scoutmaster's round table; annual steak bake, Orange county park.
July 16—Court of Honor, district 1, scout cabin, Huntington Beach.
June 17—Court of Honor, district 4, American Legion rooms, Anaheim.
June 23—Court of Honor, district 5, scout home of Fullerton No. 3.
June 25—Court of Honor, district 2, headquarters, Santa Ana.
June 25—Court of Honor, district 3, scout cabin, Orange.

Santa Ana Troop 3
Wilbur P. Palmer, who has been scoutmaster of Santa Ana Troop 3 during the last two years, presented his resignation at the last Friday's meeting. Palmer said that it would be impossible for him to go ahead with the program after this meeting, but that he would visit the troop from time to time.

Fullerton Troop 2
Fullerton Troop 2 had planned a trip to the cabin at Carbon canyon last Saturday morning, but arrived at the point of departure and unfortunately couldn't go, because the scout truck had thrown a wheel the night before. However, the troop is planning to make a trip soon with the new scoutmaster and get activities started. Mr. Shell, of Fullerton, has been selected by the American Legion committee of Fullerton to head the troop as scoutmaster. Shell has taken hold of things and promises to have a real troop soon.

Rokili
Reports from the vicinity of Camp Rokili is that the weather is a little cold and unpleasant, due to the high fog and settling of clouds, but this will help to keep snow and moisture in the ground, according to camp authority at scout headquarters, so that by the opening, July 7, wonderful weather should prevail.

Registrations are still coming in, but undoubtedly there are hundreds of scouts who are planning on going to camp who have not registered, so it is urged that these scouts register as soon as possible. The camp committee has announced the personnel of the various camp officers for this summer's camp.

camp: Camp director, Roland E. Dye and Dana U. Lamb; quartermaster, Don Keller, Fullerton; camp cook, Bill Reed, Anaheim; truck driver, Harold Goddard, Orange. Assistant cooks, buglers and camp scribes are to be selected.

Fullerton Troop 3
Karl Parks, veteran scoutmaster, of Fullerton troop 3, is leaving for an extended vacation trip into northern California, Oregon and Washington. Parks plans to be gone most of the summer and on his return will stop at Berkeley and attend the training course to be held the last of July there, and hopes to be back in time for the last period at Rokili. The troop will be under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Ben Carey during his absence.

With the leaving of the Rev. Mr. Hill who, for the last six years, has been scoutmaster of Orange Troop 1, there remain only two scoutmasters in the county who have been on the job at the head of their troops continuously since the council was reorganized, five years ago. John E. McKim, of Troop 1, Anaheim, and Leonard E. Baker, of Troop 1, Santa Ana, are the only two who have served their troops continuously for more than five years. Some troops have had as high as 12 scoutmasters during this period.

This, according to scout headquarters, is one of the most discouraging services of scout work, namely, the continuous big loss in trained leadership. However, a number of this organization members of the executive board have served the council for five or more years. They are M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana; Alex Brownridge, Santa Ana; Willard Smith, Orange, and Waldo O'Kelly, Fullerton. There are almost two score of others who have served continuously on committee work during the last five years. This year, nearly 100 scouts will qualify for the veteran's badge, which required the scout to have had five years of active service and to be a first class scout.

OFFICE SEEKERS TO CIRCULATE PETITIONS SOON

Two weeks from next Monday, candidates for office can begin the circulation of nomination petitions. Petitions must be completed and filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs not later than the closing hour at the clerk's office on July 22.

This is some of the data of especial interest to candidates, prospective candidates and friends of both, given out today by County Clerk Backs. Here is more data:

In order to have his name on the ballot, a candidate for a county office must present a nomination petition with not less than 154 bona fide registered voters signed thereto. The maximum number of signatures allowed by law is 614.

The number of signatures for the nomination petition of supervisor is:

Second district, 21 minimum, 53 maximum; fourth district, 19 minimum, 77 maximum; fifth district, 17 minimum, 70 maximum.

The number of signatures for getting a name on the ballot for the party nomination for assemblyman is:

Republican, 153 minimum, 302 maximum; Democrat, 44 minimum, 86 maximum; Socialist, 7 minimum, 11 maximum; Prohibition, 39 minimum, 75 maximum.

The number of Republican county central committeemen to be elected by districts follow:

First, 7; second, 3; third, 6; fourth, 4; fifth, 3.

ership of Clyde Payne, representing the Lions club of Troop 1, Orange, has interviewed several men lately relative to their taking the leadership of Troop 1. Mr. Crockett agreed last week to take over the troop and will be on the job next Friday evening at the regular troop meeting.

You're Free From Blow-out Troubles When Your Tires Can Do This

You could say good-bye to blow-out troubles forever if the tires on your car would meet the test below accomplished by

SAMSON CORDS

A Samson Super Service Cord, blown up and mounted on an auto wheel was dropped 120 feet on an iron lamp post.

The lamp post snapped like a match, but the tire was uninjured in any way. The same tire has been retested several times without the slightest harm, the original air remaining in the tire.

This shows how you profit from stage line construction. The excess strength of the carcass will withstand the severe shocks of rough roads and severe usage, without blow-outs or rupture. You get longer mileage and uninterrupted service.

Try Samsons next time.

CASH FOR RENT OF AUDITORIUM WILL BE ASKED

Various questions relating to administration policies and supervision of school property were discussed last night at the regular board of education meeting.

Is the school district financially liable for personal injury or property damage sustained by citizens as a result of playground activities? The question came up in connection with a bill for a broken windshield and visor, alleged to have been destroyed by a ball, knocked from the Frances E. Willard playground. It was held that the school district cannot be held responsible for bills of this kind and the claim was rejected.

"Cash is king," the sales slogan adopted by chain store organizations, will be tried out by the board of education in dealing with outside organizations desiring to rent the high school auditorium. It was brought out that as a result of financial difficulties, several organizations had been unable to settle for the use of the auditorium, including lighting charges, janitor services, and other incidentals. The secretary was directed to insist upon advance payment before issuing future permits.

Superintendent J. A. Cranston was authorized to establish special classes for over-sized children above the age of 14, now being taught in the grammar grades. Such classes will be maintained at the Julia C. Lathrop and Frances E. Willard junior high schools.

HARBOR BONDS ARE DISCUSSED AT MEET

Reports by delegates to the state convention of Exchange clubs, in Del Monte, and discussions on the harbor bonds by Frank West and George Raymer, were features of the meeting, yesterday, of the Santa Ana Exchange club.

Art Bowman and Gene Douglass were the delegates reporting on the convention, Douglass presenting comments on actions by the state conference. Bowman and Douglass reached home yesterday morning, after an all-night drive from San Francisco.

Election of George Green, Los Angeles, as president of the state organization, and G. W. Wright, of Martinez, as secretary, was announced by Douglass.

A telegram from the Exchange club in Walnut Park announced that the club would hold a picnic in Orange County park on Monday, June 21.

An invitation was extended the club to join in the day's program.

COMMISSIONER PRAISES SANTA ANA AUTO PARK

Ezra De Coto, state railroad commissioner, former district attorney of Alameda county and for some years graduate manager of the student body of the University of California, knows a good camp ground when he sees it and camps in it.

As a railroad commissioner of California, he adjudicates cases involving municipal as well as public utility service. And he says that the Santa Ana auto camp is the best camp ground he knows.

De Coto was in Santa Ana Monday of this week in attendance at the farm bureau's conference with representatives of the electric power companies of the state. De Coto, representing the state commission's attitude toward the regulation of power company rates, addressed the gathering.

It was at the luncheon, served by an Ebell section, that De Coto related his auto hobo experiences.

"Every summer," said he, "my family and I load up our automobile and knock around for a month. We see the country, take our time and enjoy every minute of the outing. Last summer, we scouted around Southern California and stopped at most of the municipal camp grounds. We found the Santa Ana auto camp the most satisfactory, the cleanest and the best equipped for our purposes. We enjoyed the setting alongside the creek. Talking over the many auto camps that we struck, we voted Santa Ana as No. 1."

CONSUL NAMED IN RUM INVESTIGATION

OTTAWA, Ont., June 9.—Charges that the Hon. W. W. Madden, British vice consul at Ensenada, Mexico, received $1000 a consignment for liquor shipments made to him, but which never got further than San Francisco, are being investigated by the parliamentary customs investigation committee here.

One shipment of 6000 cases of liquor was said to have left Vancouver aboard the steamer Prince Albert, but it could not be traced further than San Francisco.

Evidence showed that landing certificates for liquor sent to Madden were false and that Madden got $1000 per consignment merely for affixing his signature to false clearance papers for the shipments.

ROAD BIDS CALLED

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Bids for grading and paving five miles of the Oxnard-San Juan Capistrano highway, between Oxnard and the Eucene road, in Ventura county, were called for by the state highway commission. Offers will be opened in Sacramento July 6.

YANKEES ARE PRESENTED TO BRITISH COURT

LONDON, June 9.—With all the pomp and splendour for which the court of St. James' is famous, the king and queen will hold at Buckingham palace, at 9:30 tonight, the first presentation court of the current London season.

Three more will be held this season, one tomorrow night and the others July 7 and 8.

A vast and brilliant throng, including the entire diplomatic corps as well as socially prominent matrons and soon-to-be prominent debutantes, will sweep up the grand staircase lined by the gorgeously uniformed troopers of the Household Cavalry, down the long hall guarded by scarlet-and-gold clad Yeomen of the Guard of the King's Bodyguard to the doors of the ante-chamber where the gentlemen-at-arms, in scarlet and white, will check their progress until, decorously and one at a time, they may be taken in and presented to their majesties.

Strike Causes Jostlement

The one to be held tonight was originally set for May 13, but was postponed on account of the strike.

Ambassador and Mrs. Houghton will attend and Mrs. Houghton will present several American matrons and debutantes. In fact, she will be on hand at each of the four to sponsor some of her countrywomen.

Not the least important aspect of tonight's affair is that the American girls present may claim, without unduly stretching the point, that they have been presented not only to the king and queen, but to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, who, in the full-dress evening uniform of the Welch Guards, will stand just off the throne room dais and close beside the king. In Queen Victoria's day, guests courted to each member of the royal family, but today that is dispensed with. Last year the heir apparent was away on a tour.

Opening of Season

Tonight's court opens the local season, which, taking advantage of England's only good weather, usually extends from late spring to August.

This year, however, the general strike has delayed the season by approximately a month. Dinners, dances, coming-out parties for debutantes, great drawing rooms given by the last of the old-fashioned political hostesses, and smart racing parties of Epsom, Ascot and Goodwood, make a period of almost feverish gaiety.

For many weeks past, the court dressmakers have been busy day and night designing gowns which shall be smart and distinctive, and yet conform to the stern demands of the lord chamberlain that no gown may be cut low and that every one must drag a train. That august personage has been displaying for several weeks a number of sample frocks which are officially regarded as appropriate.

Dresses of Pastel Shades

According to the fashion experts, this court will far surpass its predecessors in the colors worn, though they must all be soft pastel shades—scarlet and gold and jet black and deep blue are still inexorably confined to the men who form a vast and picturesque background.

Tonight, through streets lined with the curious, two streams of carriages and motors will converge upon Buckingham palace, one up the Mall from Trafalgar square, and the other down Constitution hill. They will sweep into the paved courtyard while a crack guards' band with stirring music tells the world that a party is on at the palace. And in the motors will be several more or less nervous American girls clutch a gold-rimmed card.

5 HURT IN CRASH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Five persons were injured, none seriously when two street cars crashed at a downtown intersection. Confusion over right-of-way was assigned as the cause. The street cars were virtually wrecked.

EXPLOSION KILLS 6

BOCKLEY SPRINGS, W. Va., June 9.—Six men were dead today and a like number injured as the result of a premature explosion in a sand pit of the Bockley Springs Glass company.

SHOULD HUSBANDS DO HOUSE WORK?

How Mrs. Dyer Solved the Problem.

Mrs. Mildred Dyer was lucky. She had a good-natured husband who helped her with much of her housework. Because she was in ill health for five years, it was often necessary for him to do this. But it bothered Mrs. Dyer. She felt that he had to work hard enough anyway. The time he spent in doing her work was needed for his own. She determined to find the road to better health.

She writes: "I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is simply wonderful. My health is better than it has ever been. I am getting stronger and gaining in weight."

The Dyers live at Redlands, Calif., Route A, Box 153. How often does your husband have to do your housework? No matter how willing he is, no woman feels comfortable about it. Perhaps you, too, will find better health through the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Citizens of Orange County

Tomorrow the voters of Orange County will determine by their ballots whether Orange County is to go forward or backward. It will be impossible to stand still.

All the arguments for the bond issue are in. It is too late now to begin new campaigns. It is up to the average man to make his final decision by means of the ballot box. Only those persons who have not made up their mind can be influenced. For the benefit of those persons, some of the leading arguments for the $1,200,000 bond issue will be set forth here in language that all can understand. No dramatics, just plain English.

Looking at the proposition from a sporting angle, the development of Newport Harbor is a good bet, win or lose. If the development of the harbor results in an increase of only $1 in the property of the individual voter it will more than justify itself. The cost will be so small that the property owners cannot afford not to take the "chance."

Not the smallest item to be considered in voting on these bonds is the element of SAFETY for the bathers and boat passengers. If Orange County Harbor is not developed, every LIFE LOST there hereafter can be laid directly to the action of the "NO" VOTERS. That humanitarian reason ought to be sufficient for a "Yes" vote Thursday.

Is there anyone who believes the PROSPERITY of Southern California has reached its peak? Not many years will elapse before the area between Los Angeles and San Diego will be one city. Orange County would be IN THE CENTER of such a city. The idea of this world's largest city is not too visionary: it is being brought about before our eyes.

Orange County will continue to grow citrus whether the harbor is approved or not. This citrus must be sold. If the transportation of it to market is reduced the income to the grower will be greater. If by shipping through Newport Harbor a saving is made in the transportation of citrus, a vote for the bonds will be justified. Every crop thereafter that flows to eastern markets through refrigerator ships leaving Orange County will be a vindication of the "Yes" vote.

There are some persons who intend to vote the appropriation for the improvement of the entrance, but who do not intend to vote for the money to be spent on the inside work. This is not good business. A man can't sell his house on the condition of the paint on the outside. Unless his house is useful for residential purposes, it is of little value. And yet the paint is necessary to preserve the wood, unless the house decay. A vote for one proposition and a vote against the other is not logical.

If Orange County Harbor were to be made available only to pleasure craft, the issuance of the bonds would be justified. The port must be a port of registry before the ships making their home there can be assessed as Orange County property. Only by development can the port be made a port of entry.

If one steam schooner docks at Newport Harbor with a cargo of lumber, that lumber will be delivered to Orange County merchants cheaper than if it were brought in via San Pedro. The result will be that the home builders of Orange County will have an opportunity to take advantage of this saving. The saving made possible to a large number of home owners through the importation of one cargo of lumber would be more than the cost to the same man in approving the bonds.

Don't be misled by anonymous statements quoting government engineers in 1918, as against Orange County Harbor. The "great war" is over. The most recent reports all favor the development of the harbor and don't let those excerpts mislead you. The worst traitor in the history of the world could be proved a saint by excerpts from his speeches, without the whole content.

Where would Los Angeles Harbor be today if the "NO" voters had predominated years ago? Why is Long Beach developing its harbor?

Why are the people of Riverside and San Bernardino counties so vitally interested in the passage of the Harbor bond issue? It means an outlet for them and cheaper transportation.

Why did you pick Orange County as a place of residence? Was it because you thought it a mighty good place to live? Are you an exception or are there hundreds of others who will look upon the county in the same light? Do you want to attract more people like yourself here? The harbor will help you do it.

Water conservation must come. No one is so blind he can't see that. When the water bonds are voted, greater prosperity will prevail. That prosperity will be greater if we have the facilities to take care of the increased crops. The harbor is the logical means.

Think it all over carefully. When you vote, put a cross in the square opposite "YES" on both issues. Build Orange County from purely selfish reasons if for no other.

Vote like this

Vote "YES" on both items

Use the Stamp

Don't use pencil or pen.

If you spoil a ballot,

you can get another.

Shall the bonds of the County of Orange be issued to the amount of $650,000.00 for the further development, improvement and protection of the entrance to Newport Harbor, in accordance with the report of the Harbor Commission?	BONDS YES	X
	BONDS NO
Shall the bonds of the County of Orange be issued to the amount of $550,000.00 for the further development, improvement and protection of the interior of Newport Harbor, in accordance with the report of the Harbor Commission?	BONDS YES	X
	BONDS NO

N. L. ATTENDANCE RECORDS ARE SHATTERED

BILLY
SaysEVIL OR GOOD
The evil or the good that the golf swing has on the batting power of a big league ball player will always be a subject for discussion pro and con.

The veteran "Kid" Gleason, who has starred in every diamond role, player, coach and manager, is strong against golf during the playing season and only luke warm for it in the idle months.

"The stiff left arm, so necessary to good golf, is all wrong in baseball," says Gleason. "It is bound to change the style of the batter and has a tendency to make pop-up hitters."

BIG OPPORTUNITY
Opportunity is half the battle in sport, particularly if the athlete has the ability to deliver.

In the sensational showing made by the New York Americans, the play of Catcher Collins has figured prominently.

Yet when Collins was brought back from the minors, it was really as an understudy to Benny Bengough, who had performed so well for the Yanks last season.

A sore arm so handicapped Bengough this spring that the catching burden was put right up to Collins and he more than made good. He grasped opportunity by the right hand and held on.

YANK PITCHING
In the several long winning streaks started by the Yankees this year, the power of the club's attack has been given most of the credit for its success.

In the orgy of base hits that the Yanks have sprinkled over the American league diamonds, the pitching has apparently been overlooked.

"True, the Yanks have been getting their pitchers plenty of runs, but a lot of them weren't needed. The best pitching we have seen this year was placed on exhibition by the New York and Philadelphia twirlers."

"Don't overlook the Yankee staff in giving proper credit to the club's great showing."

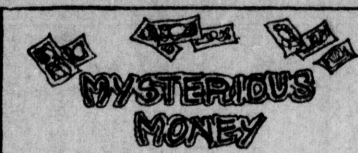

SHORTSTOPS SCARCE
Stars at particular positions in major league baseball seem to run in cycles.

Usually a number of stars at a particular position make their debut the same year, only to have a dearth of material for several years among the recruits for the same position.

This season the American league appears to have uncovered a lot of promising second sackers among the recruits of 1926.

For several years there has been a limited amount of shortstop material, so that several clubs are now in need of reserve strength at that position.

By JOE WILLIAMS

NEW YORK, June 9.—It's one of the hoary axioms of the nose-busting business that only the natural boms ever reach the championship summits.

Which is to say that if the instinctive spark is lacking in the beginning no amount of self-application or effort can move the earnest 'artisan' into the title ranks.

This is not always true. There is Paul Berlenbach, the light heavyweight champion of the world. Paul is a made-over wrestler. And there is Young Stirling, the Georgian, trained originally for stage acrobatics.

Curiously, these two "manufactured fighters" come together in a championship test here tomorrow night. Which will win: the reformed wrestler, or the frustrated acrobat? On which synthetic noodle will rest the crown which the laws of the game say is reserved only for the natural boms?

It will be a severe test for Stirling, for Berlenbach is just the type of battler who is most likely to whip him. Berlenbach has a fine left hook to the body and Stirling's one weakness is a pronounced dislike for body punches.

Can He Take 'Em
In the argot of the game, he "can't take 'em there."

John Risko, the Cleveland rubber man, demonstrated this before a packed house in Madison Square Garden less than a month ago. After taking a merciless pasting most of the way, Risko let fly a left hook in the last round that shook Stirling in his heels and all but dropped him.

Berlenbach is a better hitter with his left than Risko. At least he is more accurate with the punch. This being so, Stirling will need legality and head alertness to keep out of danger. Maybe he can do it. He is faster and smarter than Berlenbach and just about as strong.

Even with his body weakness I am inclined to think Stirling has better than an outside chance to beat the champion. He has a diversified style and a speed at attack that are sure to bewilder the slow-witted Berlenbach. He has a swift-darting left hand that is good enough in itself to win with.

Stirling is fighting better today than he ever fought—and fighting cleaner. He looked the part of a potential champion in the Risko fight and he displayed a willingness to respect the subtle ethics of the sport that was not at all characteristic of the Stirling of a year ago.

Same Style as Risko
The southerner conceded nearly 20 pounds to Risko and then whipped him to a whisper. Risko, in a previous fight had won a decisive victory over Berlenbach. The dope, you see, presages a Stirling victory, presages but does not assure.

Stirling will find Berlenbach

'TALK TENNIS' FLUORS PUNISH HELEN'S PLEA POLE-CLIMBERS AT INTERVIEW BY 13-5 SCORE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, June 9.—Looking like a Harrison Fisher girl in a box of flowers, Helen Wills, America's tennis champion, today granted the first personal interview since her illness. She looks well, feels well and is anxious to return to the courts.

"You are the first person to see me except my mother since the operation," Miss Wills said, "and I want to talk tennis, as mother has not seen any of the matches. Tell me what they have been doing."

Only with considerable difficulty was Miss Wills persuaded to talk about herself.

"I am feeling that I want to jump out of bed now," she said. "I certainly will play at Forest Hills this summer and I may play doubles at Wimbledon the last of this month. The doctor is taking out the stitches tonight and then he will tell me if I may play so soon."

"I am to take Dr. De Martel's advice about going to the Racing club Sunday to see Mary Browne's final match with Suzanne. I certainly am going to root for Mary."

MARY BROWNE, LENGLEN TO BE FINALISTS

PARIS, June 9.—Mary K. Browne of California and captain of the Wightman cup team, today won her semi-final match and entered the finals of the French championship at the Racing club. Miss Browne defeated Miss Katrina Bauman of Holland 8-6, 6-2.

The American player will meet Suzanne Lenglen for the championship.

Miss Browne was the only American woman remaining in singles tournament play.

Lenglen today defeated Miss Joan Fry of England in the women's singles semi-finals, 6-2, 6-1. Suzanne ran Miss Fry from side to side of the court and then placed a "kill" during most of their match.

Howard Kinsey of California was eliminated from the French Tennis championships by Jean Borotra of France after five set match which was hard fought throughout.

Kinsey won the first set 6-2, but Borotra took the next two at 6-4, 6-1. Kinsey got the fourth at 6-3 and then Borotra won the fifth and the match at 7-5.

BLAUERS MEET TIERNANS AT PARK TONIGHT

It will be a survival of the fittest at Lincoln park tonight when the strong Tiernan Typewriter company and F. C. Blauer grocery teams, both fighting with Lee's Fountain for the City league leadership, collide in a regular league contest. The teams are scheduled to begin hostilities at 7:30 o'clock. Both teams have suffered but one reversal, the Tiernans having lost 2 to 1 to scrap to the Peek market and the Blauers having been on the short end of a 5 to 2 score with Lee's Fountain.

"Swede" Evans, former University of Southern California football and track star, probably will go to the mound for the Blauers. Tommy Hitt probably will be the Tiernan's selection.

SANTA ANA TEAM DEFEATS CORONA ALL-STARS
With Earl Jones hurling two-hit ball, a "pick-up" Santa Ana team defeated the Corona All-Stars, 10 to 3, in an indoor baseball game at Corona last night. Corona made all its runs in the first inning and got but one man as far as third base thereafter.

Santa Ana scored one in the first and cinched its victory in the fourth when five runs were pushed around in two errors and three hits, including a double by Wayne Nelson and a long home run by Randolph Bell. The fielding of Hill and Romo for Santa Ana featured.

Jes. McMahon, the Madison Square Garden matchmaker, is negotiating for a return bout on a date early in July.

HUGGINS FAILS TO GET CREDIT AS YANKS WIN

NEW YORK, June 9.—A year ago when the Yankees were headed nowhere in the American league and were battling to remain out of the basement, one man was blamed for the tremendous flop and that man was Miller Huggins.

Today the Yankees are at the top of the junior circuit and stand an excellent chance to hang on to that precious position, but in the comments on the form reversal one hears nothing about the same Miller Huggins, who has continued as the pint-sized manager of the Yanks.

Huggins probably would be the most tragic figure in baseball if he believed one-tenth of the diatribes directed against him. As it is he fails to inspire praise and offers an excellent target whenever anything goes wrong.

A man who has managed a team winning three pennants and a world series in three years might be expected to draw the plaudits of a hero. But not Huggins. The attitude of sports writers and the general public seemed to be that the Yankees were victorious in spite of Huggins rather than because of him.

And last year's debacle seemed to confirm the impression that the Yanks as a team depended wholly on the antics of Babe Ruth and that any bush leaguer could make more of a success than Huggins.

This, as said before, is another year. Col. Ruppert, the genial owner of the Yankees, always has had oceans of confidence in "Hug" and this confidence appears to have been well placed.

A great deal of the 1926 success of the Yankees certainly must be laid to Ruth's reformation. But aside from the great slugger the New Yorkers have a powerful team and one wonders if Huggins shouldn't receive some of the glory.

The charge has been made frequently that Ruppert has bought winning ball teams, but this year it is noticed that six regulars were developed in major league baseball by Huggins. These are Meusel, Combs, Gehrig, Koenig, Lazzeri and Collins. And this sextet is worth a lot more money than any club owner could furnish on a moment's notice.

Tyrrell Gets Five Hits In One Game

Five hits, including two doubles and a homer, out of six times at bat was one of the records made by Hillard ("Tuffy") Tyrrell, well known Santa Ana baseball player, last week in a game his club, Tulsa, played, in the Western league.

Tyrrell's batting average for the week was more than 400 and included 13 safe bingles, several of them for extra bases, in 31 official trips to the platoon.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW HAVEN — Yale's new golf course will be opened June 19 by a foursome of noted stars. Jesse Sweetser, British amateur champion, and Dexter Cummings, former intercollegiate champion, will play Francis Oulmet and Jesse Guilford of Boston in a 36-hole match.

NEW YORK—Wilbur Cooper, veteran National league pitcher, has been released by the Chicago Cubs to the Detroit American league team. The release came as a distinct surprise for Cooper's season record is two won and one lost. Both his victories were shut outs.

SAN FRANCISCO — Re-establishment of horse racing in California is sought in a referendum petition circulated today in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and larger cities of the state. The pari-mutuel system of wagering is proposed under the measure.

The first American player to win the British amateur golf championship was Walter J. Travis, of the Garden City Golf club, who captured the title in 1904. Travis at the time was 42 years old.

Helmie Groh, the veteran third sacker released by the Giants, should prove a valuable acquisition to the Toledo Mudhens. In the opinion of the experts Groh still has a lot of good baseball in his system.

CLOSENESS OF PENNANT RACE IS HELD CAUSE

League-Leading Reds Only Four Games in Front of Giants in Fifth Place

By PAUL W. WHITE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 9.—Fears so often expressed that baseball was losing its right to the title of "the national pastime" received another setback in the announcement of National league club owners that the first two months of this season saw record attendance. The crowds came despite the unusually cold spring.

When the owners gathered here for their June meeting yesterday they tried to analyze the cause of the prosperity and a few were inclined to lay it to the new ball, which has cut down batting averages and limited the supply of extra base hits.

Others ascribed the record attendance to the closeness of the race in the senior circuit which is the more likely cause. With virtually one-third of the season gone, 4½ games separate the league leading Cincinnati Reds from the New York Giants and Brooklyn Robins, who are tied for fifth position.

It is anybody's race. The Pittsburgh Pirates are but a game out of first place. The Cubs are only a game and a half behind Pittsburgh and the Cards are trailing the Cubs by another game and a half. Every day for a week there has been some change in the standing.

When the ball parks begin to pack them in all over the circuit it is an indication that a great deal of uncertainty exists as to which team will win the pennant.

Piping 'Em Off
Yesterday's Hero—Babe Ruth, who hit his 20th and 21st homers of the season in a wild 11-inning affair which the Yankees won from the Tigers, 11 to 5.

While the crown prince of Sweden and Young Stirling looked on, the Cubs took a close one from the Giants, 8 to 6.

"Red" Faber triumphed over 'Lefty' Grove in a pitching duel and the White Sox nosed out the Athletics, 1 to 0.

The Browns took advantage of four errors by the Red Sox and were able to win, 8 to 1.

The Braves made it four in a row over the Reds when J. Taylor's double in the 11th scored with the run that won the game, 8 to 7.

Washington tied the score in the ninth, but the Indians came back in the home half for a 5 to 4 victory.

Helmie Groh, the veteran third sacker released by the Giants, should prove a valuable acquisition to the Toledo Mudhens. In the opinion of the experts Groh still has a lot of good baseball in his system.

AVOID SOWING POOR QUALITY SEED. ADVICE

State Agency Offers to Test Specimens for Determination of Proper Fertility

By W. S. WILKINSON
Seed Specialist, California Department of Agriculture

The average annual farm value of the major field and vegetable crops produced in California, covering the last seven years, is approximately one-quarter of a billion dollars. This vast amount of money coming into the pockets of the California farmers is obtained from crops which are produced from seed planted each year. It has been estimated that somewhat over 100,000 tons of seed are required each year to plant the acreage necessary to produce these crops.

This volume of seed is obtained from nearly every section of the world: Bluegrass for lawns from Missouri and Kentucky; white clover and ryegrass from New Zealand, Germany and the British Isles; soy beans from China and Manchuria; red oats from Texas and Oklahoma; vegetable and beet seeds from the European mainland, and occasionally alfalfa from Argentina. This list comprises only some of those imported and taken together with the flower, garden vegetable and field seeds produced in California, comprise the bulk of the seed used.

Weeds Not Native
The statement that "anything that will grow anywhere will grow in California" is probably not entirely true, although with our wide variety of soils and varying climatic conditions, the statement is more nearly correct as applied to California than to any other political division of the world. This statement applies equally well to the seeds of plants which are classed as weeds as well as it does to the seeds which are desirable from an agricultural viewpoint. Relatively few of the weeds native to California are native to this state. Our native flora has been greatly augmented by weed seeds brought into and spread through California by various agencies, one of which is by being present in commercial seeds.

It has been stated that the average annual loss per acre caused by the presence of weeds is $2.64. In Pennsylvania the total loss to the farmer from these weeds is computed at $24,000,000 annually. California, with her larger acreage, sustains a total loss as large if not larger than Pennsylvania. Such a loss is equal to approximately 24 per cent of the cost of running the state government for one year, or would pay for the conduct of our elementary schools for approximately five and one-half months.

Unfortunately this loss cannot be entirely avoided, but a large portion of it can be prevented by the planter, if the agencies which are at his command are utilized.

The farmer should keep his fields reasonably free from weeds. He should, as far as possible, prevent the weeds from going to seed. He should guard against seeding his land with foul seed.

To assist the planter in carrying out this second precaution, the legislature of 1921 passed the California seed act. This act requires the establishment of a seed testing laboratory to which any citizen of California is entitled to send samples of seed for the determination of quality. Complying with the requirements, the California state department of agriculture established a laboratory in conjunction with the U. S. department of agriculture at 1217 L street, Sacramento. To this laboratory farmers and seedsmen have submitted over 15,000 samples of seed in the last few years.

Examine Labels
The seed act, in order to further aid the planter, required that each lot of agricultural or field seed, before being sold, must have attached thereto a label giving statements of the percentage of purity, weight and germination, and in addition the names of any noxious weed seeds which might be present. The planter can determine the quality of any lot of seed before purchase by making a close examination of the label. He can avoid purchasing seed which is not of high purity and germination and high in weed seed content. He can avoid the planting of any seed which contains weed seeds of a detrimental or noxious character.

These agencies have been placed at the disposal of the purchaser or planter of our field crop seeds. It behooves each one to use the simple precautions of maintaining clean fields and avoiding planting seed which is not of the highest quality. In this manner the farmer can avoid nature's unnecessary tax of several dollars per acre. At the same time he can maintain the fertility of his soil and produce a crop of higher quality and value.

Ant Control to Be Subject Of Special Meeting

A mass meeting of citrus growers of Orange county has been called by the agricultural extension service, co-operating with the horticultural commission, for Friday, June 11, 10 a. m., at the place of W. J. Cadman, Fullerton. Ranchers should go west on Commonwealth avenue about one-half mile to Richman avenue, thence north on Richman avenue about one-half mile to top of Golden Hill.

It has long been conceded that proper ant control in the orchard is tied up closely with the control of mealy bug. As the Argentine ant problem is one of considerable importance in many sections of the county, the citrus department of the farm bureau has considered a field demonstration timely to outline the best method of control.

Arrangements have been made for the assistance of entomologists from the citrus experiment station to outline the life-history of the pest and to show actual methods of control work under orchard conditions. Members of the horticultural staff will also discuss the relationship between the Argentine ant pest and the other pests of the citrus grove. All growers are invited to attend.

STRESS DANGER FROM INROADS OF CORN BORER

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Unrestricted, the European corn borer eventually will destroy the corn crop of the United States—a crop valued at nearly $2,500,000,000 each year.

Under proper restrictive measures, we may still hope to raise corn in spite of the borer, and retain it as our principal crop, although under conditions not so favorable as in the past.

This is the verdict of leading entomologists of the country after studying the corn borer menace since the pest was first discovered in 1917.

These scientists say there is now no possible hope for exterminating or confining the insect permanently within its present bounds of New England, New York, Ohio, Michigan and Ontario. Quarantine may retard it, but the natural spread of the borer westward, which is from 20 to 40 miles a year, is sure to carry it throughout the great corn growing regions of the middle west.

In Other Plants, Too
Here corn growing is not only a vast industry in itself, but is at the bottom of the huge meat and dairy business of the nation.

The European corn borer has been found in 135 varieties of plants in the United States, the federal department of agriculture says. Some of these plants undoubtedly serve primarily as shelter for the borers rather than as food.

The more important plants frequently attacked by the borer are aster, beans, beets, celery, chrysanthemum, dahlias, gladioli, hemp, hops, millet, peppers, potato, rhubarb, sunflower and Swiss chard.

Cotton, grown in an experimental field, was also attacked. Control of the insect depends on the farmers who are ready to adopt measures recommended to them, by various agricultural agencies, and the United States department of agriculture.

How To Tell Infestation
One of the first signs of the pest is a broken tassel with dry sawdust-like castings protruding from the point of breaking. The presence of these castings on the leaf near its base or between the leaf sheath and stalk is another indication that the stalk is infested.

The presence of holes, with or without protruding castings, marks the stalk as probably carrying the pest. To find the insect, such stalk should be split open at these places and from there downward until the caterpillar, if present, is located.

On account of the similarity of its damage to the ears of corn, the corn earworm is often mistaken for the corn borer. This insect usually confines its damage to the silk and kernels of the ear, whereas the corn borer feeds on the silk and kernels and bores into the cob, stalk, leaves and larger roots.

Other insects mistaken for the European corn borer are the stalk borer, the smartweed borer, the celery stalkworm, the lined stalk-borer and the larger corn stalk-borer.

CORONER'S WIFE KILLED BY CAR

OAKLAND, June 9.—Mrs. Grant Miller, wife of the coroner of Alameda county, was instantly killed near Moraga, when the car driven by her husband broke through the soft road edge and dropped 30 feet. Miller and his grandchild, Jean McNeur, were uninjured.

ROAD OPENING NEAR YOSEMITE, CALIF., June 9.—Four weeks ahead of schedule, the Tioga Pass road will be open to travel June 15, W. G. Lewis, superintendent of Yosemite park, said. Tioga road, a main east-west artery crossing the park north of Yosemite valley, was traversed by the first automobile of the season Sunday.

PUT BANDS ON WALNUT TREES TO TRAP BUGS

Deputy Horticultural Commissioner Tells How Codling Moth May Be Curbed

BY W. H. WRIGHT
Deputy Horticultural Commissioner

Now that the active season in treating with spray or dust for the control of walnut codling moth is past, the growers' attention is called to another feature in the control of this pest—brood worms.

Not all the first-brood worms will be killed by spray or dust; some will escape regardless of how thoroughly the treatment has been carried out. A large percentage of these can be caught and destroyed before the middle of June by placing burlap bands around the trunks of the trees just below the main branches.

The bands should be folded to three thicknesses about five or six inches wide with the last fold on the outside and toward the base of the tree making it necessary for the worms, as they crawl down the trunk, to go between the band and the tree trunk, the bands being held in place by one nail.

Another feature which is absolutely essential is the inspection of these bands every ten days throughout the summer and the worms destroyed. This can be accomplished by wearing a glove and smashing.

This recommendation is made from the horticultural commissioner's office. It should not be neglected.

COWS OF WISCONSIN HIGH IN BUTTERFAT

KENOSHA, Wis., June 9.—A record in butterfat production by Wisconsin dairy cows, said to exceed that of any state in the union, was established in Wisconsin last year, according to A. J. Cramer, state supervisor of dairies.

The record shows that Badger dairy cows produced 80 pounds more butterfat than the average maintained by the country's milk producers.

The average cow the nation over is credited with 160 pounds annually. Wisconsin cows average 190 pounds of butterfat, according to Cramer.

The Wisconsin figures are based on production of 75,168 cows owned by 4212 dairy farmers. Statistics show 58,800 Wisconsin cows in 1925 herds averaged 6859 pounds of milk, testing 3.95 per cent, or an average of 271 pounds of butterfat.

In 47 of the state's 71 counties, 973 herds averaged 300 pounds of fat last year. The highest-producing cow in the state last year was a grade Holstein in the Rockwell-Katterhenry herd of Beloit. The Holstein produced 22,950 pounds of milk, with 872 pounds of fat.

PROBLEMS OF THE SOIL

Q. Last October I set out a red double-flowering Hibiscus. The plant is doing unusually well and full of buds at all times but seldom blooms. The buds reach various stages and then fall. I was told that I give the bush too much water. Since then I have been very sparing of water but the buds fall just the same. Enclosed are a few specimens. Can you advise me as to care of Hibiscus? The soil is rather sticky deep down but I filled the hole with top soil and some fertilizer.—Mrs. E. R. N.

A. No adequate explanation can be given other than that this is said to be a habit of Hibiscus under certain conditions for the first year or two after planting.

Q. I am having trouble with cucumbers and melons. The vines have been doing beautifully until now, when I notice some of the leaves dying. They surely do not need water, as I have given them good care and I cannot find any insects on them. Can you advise what to do for them?—Mrs. E. L.

A. Probably one of the mildew diseases and cucumbers are subject to is causing the death of the leaves. There are two forms of mildew you may look for, one of them called powdery mildew and the other downy mildew. The first may be known by white felt-like patches over the surfaces of the leaves affecting old and young leaves alike. Downy mildew is more difficult to recognize but usually manifests itself in the death of the older leaves. The center or old leaves die out first and the disease gradually spreads outwards towards the tips of the vines.

The time to control any sort of mildew is before it begins work. After it appears on the vines it is very hard to check. Even when control is begun in time it cannot always be stopped. Probably the best thing to do is to spray the leaves every 10 days or less with Bordeaux mixture, beginning when they are a foot or so high. If you get the dry Bordeaux powder diluted at the rate of one pound to six gallons of water. To give you an idea of the damage these mildews can do it is said that losses reaching to the hundreds of thousands of dollars have been caused by them to the Imperial valley melon crop this spring.

Electricity In Agriculture Is Meeting Topic

In 1924 a committee was established to direct an investigation of the relation electricity bears to agriculture in California. Progress reports have been made from time to time, and the meeting held in the Ebel clubhouse, Santa Ana, Monday, June 7, was held for that purpose. Representatives of electric power companies, equipment manufacturers, farmers' organizations, the federal government, together with business men and farmers of Orange county were in attendance.

The program for the day included remarks from J. J. Deuel, manager of the law and utilities department, California farm bureau federation; Roy Bishop, president Orange county farm bureau; B. D. Moses, agricultural engineering division, University of California; L. J. Fletcher, agricultural engineering division, University of California; N. R. Sutherland, Pacific Gas and Electric company; W. S. Rose, Orange county farm bureau; A. Emery, San Joaquin Light and Power corporation; Ezra W. DeCoto, member California railroad commission; and S. S. Knight, legislative representative of the Grange and Farmers union.

The purpose of this committee is to obtain facts concerning uses of electrical energy on the farm, the study of these facts, and their careful preparation for publication of the truths brought out by these studies.

Dr. George Gordon of the state department of agriculture, has just returned from an official tour covering the territory lying between Calexico, the most southerly and Crescent City one of the most northerly cities in the state. He was engaged in making official inspections of slaughtering establishments which are conducted under state supervision, and also conferring with officials of cities which contemplate establishing systems of meat inspection.

Dr. Gordon reports that considerable interest is being manifested in the northern counties over state meat inspection, and adds that it is only a matter of a short time when another trip will be necessary to confer with officials of several cities in Humboldt and Mendocino counties, where a desire has been expressed to know more about the inspection and the manner of passing local ordinances calling for this service.

"Crescent City is the latest municipality to adopt an ordinance, and it will go into effect immediately. With the addition of this city to the list of inspection centers we have the most northerly and southerly points in the state using the service," said Dr. Gordon.

"When inspection goes into effect in a community, it radiates to other points in other communities because its effect is quickly apparent." He further stated that judging by the interest being evidenced it will only be a matter of time until the entire state is covered by a thorough system of meat inspection, just as the dairy industry is today, because the people are rapidly realizing the necessity for such a health protection. He plans to leave on Monday for Tulare, where he has been asked to confer with the city trustees on the same subject.

Here are figures showing the plight of the farmer. They've been compiled after a national survey by the National Bureau of Economic Research:

While the cost of living has been rising, the farmer's income has been declining—a double blow.

In 1919 the total agricultural income for the United States was $9,589,000,000. Two years later it had dropped 59 per cent—to $3,965,000,000.

While comparative figures are obtained for only this period, it is estimated that the decline has been going on, although not in such great proportion.

The research bureau's survey shows, however, that the burden of loss has been resting on the farmers of the west north central states, where a decrease in farm income of nearly 85 per cent is recorded for the two years under observation.

The farmers in New England have been able to hold their own against this, and in fact have been showing a profit.

Nebraska is one of the states that have been hit hardest in agricultural losses. The farmers of that state enjoyed an annual income of $225,000,000 in 1919. In 1921 the income had fallen down to $38,000,000.

Iowa is another state in the west north central group that suffered greatly these years. The farmers of that state suffered an income reduction of 85 per cent! Now farmers and "entrepreneurs," as the research bureau calls persons investing in farm property but not actually working the land, have been cutting deeply into the incomes of the farmers. Not so much in New England, where farmers for the most part still own their farms, as in the rest of the country where a great part of the agricultural income has to be paid off in rent and interest.

Iowa is another state in the west north central group that suffered greatly these years. The farmers of that state suffered an income

Farmers in the west north central states, as a result, found that their share in the income from their lands was only 33.32 per cent.

"The total current agricultural income of farmers and property owners in Nebraska was so low in 1921 that there was a little left for the farmers after the non-farmers received their share in the form of rent and interest on mortgages," the bureau reports. "In that year Nebraska farmers received only 8.4 per cent of this part of the total net current agricultural income earned in the state."

"This, of course, is not the normal share of Nebraska farmers," the bureau adds.

ADVICE GIVEN FOR PLANTING OF EVERGREENS

It is too late for planting deciduous trees or shrubs, but evergreens may still be planted, for these the nursery men have taken up with a ball of earth. They have them now, carefully wrapped in burlap, so that they may still be set out as safely as from a pot. But be sure to have the ground well dug into which they are to be set, and water well. Among the trees and shrubs which may be had made safe for transplanting are Cedrus Libani, Cedrus Atlantica, Glauca, Arborvitae, Italian Cypress, Eucalyptus in variety—Japonica, Japonica Aurea, and Marginata, Aurea, Taxus, Juniperus Hibernica, Genista, Pittosporum—and many others. Ask if the plants are "balled"; if "balled," they may be moved safely even though it is a bit late. But don't wait any longer.

Annuals may be sown, especially if the young seedlings may be kept slightly shaded. Good gardeners make small sowings of the easily transplantable annuals, so that there is always something coming on, rather than a wealth of bloom, and then barrenness. Gladioli may be planted at any time.

HARMLESS WAY TO REDUCE—

A large number of men and women today are overburdened with excess fat and want to know of a safe, and harmless way to reduce—

For many years fat has been considered a dreaded enemy—it is unhealthy, cumbersome and not stylish to be overweight. Fat men and women as a rule are not wanted anywhere. Thousands of fat people have used SAN-GRINA to get back to a slender, normal figure. No startling overnight reduction—no miracle. The reducing is generally from 3 to 4 pounds a week—it is a logical and safe way to get slender and well without having to resort to weakening diets or strenuous exercises. It is very likely that amongst your own acquaintances SAN-GRINA has been used—Why not ask them what they think of it? Then try it yourself and see what it can do—if you know of an obstinate case of obesity mention SAN-GRINA to them, it is guaranteed to reduce or money refunded.

Why we do not send samples

NOTE: Many people ask for free samples but experience has proven that it takes more than a sample to show results—WE DO BETTER—we guarantee results or your druggist will refund money so the trial does not cost you a cent. Sold at all good drug or department stores or you can send direct to the SANGRINA CO., 1841 Broadway, N. Y. C.

WALES UNVEILS
PLAIN STATUE TO KITCHENER

LONDON, June 9.—A simple, undecorated statue of Field Marshal the Earl Kitchener of Khartoum, whose fate may forever remain one of the mysteries of the World war, was unveiled in the Horse Guards parade here today by the Prince of Wales.

The bare inscription, "Kitchener, 1850-1916. Erected by Parliament," under the seven and one-half foot khaki figure in the uniform of a British army field marshal, tells all that is now known of the unhappy ending of one of the most brilliant military careers in the history of the world.

The British secret service and the entire military intelligence of the government have, for more than 10 years, carried on an untiring search of every corner of the globe in an attempt to determine the truth about Kitchener's disappearance. Every possible clue which might shed some light on the mystery has been run down in the relentless investigation.

Last Seen in North Sea.

Reports, accepted as the most authoritative available, state that Kitchener was last seen talking with the captain of the British cruiser Hampshire, while the ship was being abandoned off the Orkney islands, in the North sea, early on the morning of June 5, 1916. It is believed that the vessel struck a floating mine, but this point has never been definitely determined.

The ship's officers who had already taken to the boats quickly realized the absence of the commander-in-chief of the British army and an immediate wild cry of "Where is Lord Kitchener?" was set up, but no reply came to the boats drifting farther into the darkness from the sinking Hampshire. One sailor reported that he had seen Kitchener talking with the commander of the ship, while others declared that Kitchener was seen taking a lifeboat, containing the body of a man who was said to have left the ship with Kitchener, was subsequently washed ashore, but no evidence that Kitchener had been in the boat was found.

Many Reports Heard. Frequent reports from all parts of Europe filter from time to time into the hands of authorities here telling of people who declare they have seen Kitchener in some remote spot, or that an insane man, resembling the lost commander-in-chief, has been seen in one of the capitals of Europe. Investigation of these reports, however, has proven that the person thought to be Kitchener was some other, or the supposedly insane man can no longer be found in the vicinity.

Whether Kitchener went down with the sinking ship, or whether he may still be alive in some part of the world, will probably remain one of the unsolved mysteries of the war.

REDUCE CLASS OF FULLERTON
POST OFFICE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—California postmasters were well treated in the order just announced by the postmaster general raising the classification of post offices throughout the country entitled to the raise through increased receipts. Seven California offices were raised from the second to the first class. The order means increased compensation for the postmaster in each case and for the employees in the office as well.

The office at Fullerton fell from a first class office to a second class, which means a reduction in compensation for the postmaster there. Seven other California offices were reduced from third class offices to fourth class, which means reduction in compensation also.

The promotions to the first class offices are as follows: Beverly Hills, Burbank, Burlingame, Lodi, Salinas, Sawtelle and Ventura.

The promotions from the third to the second class were: Barstow, Calistoga, Colfax, Ferndale, Hawthorne, La Habra, La Mesa, Lancaster, Lincoln, McCleod, Menlo Park, Mount Shasta, Ojai, Owensmouth, Rio Vista, San Dimas, Sunnyvale, Tujunga and Vasco.

The reductions from third to fourth class were at the following offices: Auberry, Cazadero, Elk, Mokelumne Hill, North Fork, Smith River, Stratford.

BILLBOARD 'EVIL'
PUT UNDER FIRE

TULSA, Okla., June 9.—A vigorous National Association of Real Estate Boards, meeting in annual convention here today, by Claude L. King, Harrisburg, Pa., vice president of the American Civic association.

King advocated a public control of billboards in such a manner as to restrict them from the residential sections of cities and from public highways in the country "wherever they would interfere with the enjoyment of civic beauty."

"Ill-placed billboards, which assault the eye have come to be in conflict with the greater public welfare, although no one would wish to destroy any proper use of the billboard as a means of advertising," King said.

King pointed to steps taken by Massachusetts and Pennsylvania to curb the use of billboards. These states have enacted laws or have passed amendments to the constitution regulating the placing of boards.

L. A. Patrolman Is Cited for Bravery

Patrolman Samuel DeLapp Jr., of the Boyle Heights division, Los Angeles police, has been commended for bravery by Chief of Police Davis, Los Angeles, it was learned here today. DeLapp saved the life, last Sunday, of Charles Vollwert, a swimmer, at Balboa.

OPENS HEADQUARTERS

PASADENA, June 9.—Charles E. Murphy, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress from the ninth district, opened campaign headquarters in the Green hotel here today.

Charge Kidnaping
Of Own Children

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 9.—Accused of kidnaping her own children, Blanche Mary Anderson, of Willows, was arrested near Dos Palos by Constable George Soper, on complaint of her former husband, Roy Middleton, of Willows. "These children are mine," the mother protested. "A judge may say that they belong to him, but I know they belong to me and they want to be with me."

Today's Anniversaries

1844—Gabriel Moore, governor of Alabama and United States senator, died at Caddo, Texas. Born in Stokes county, North Carolina, about 1785.

1849—Rev. William Nichols, Protestant Episcopal bishop of California, born at Lloyd, N. Y. Died in San Francisco, June 5, 1924.

1851—A committee at Melbourne was authorized to offer rewards for gold discoveries in Australia.

1854—John F. Shafroth, twice governor of Colorado, and later United States senator, born at Fayette, Mo. Died in Denver February 20, 1922.

1858—George B. McClellan was chosen first president of the University of California, but declined.

1870—Charles Dickens, the great English novelist, died at Gad's Hill, Born at Portsmouth, England, February 7, 1812.

1882—Timothy Kelly, the last of the Phoenix Park assassins, was hanged in Dublin.

1902—The bandit Harry Tracy escaped from the Oregon state penitentiary.

IS YOUR LIFE SAD? THEN FIND JOY IN OTHERS—CYNTHIA

BY CYNTHIA GREY

There is always the problem of the woman who thinks that because her own little plans have gone awry there is nothing right with the world.

Sometimes it is the woman whose husband has died or deserted her. Then again, it is the mother mourning a favorite child's death—or the girl who has failed in a lifelong ambition, or found her best friend untrue.

And when life has thwarted them, they rail against life and condemn it as not worth the living.

What they seem to miss is the realization that there is no unusual case—that life deals black cards to everyone at some time or other.

They have known other people in trouble—but it is so easy to bear other people's griefs! When trouble hits them, they beat the air and accuse life of special cruelty.

The best remedy for women in this state of mind is to force an interest in the life around them. Enough dramas are going on within reach to keep their thoughts away from self, if only they would open their eyes and look for the show.

Personal life may be cruelly unsatisfying. Tragedy may have blotted out the sunshine for a time. But life in the abstract is so complex, so woven of rainbow colors as to offer complete diversion for any observer who really seeks it.

Of course, the woman who shuts the windows and draws the shades so as not to see the stream of life that passes by, will not recover from the grief within her own doors.

Life doesn't force its gorgeous spectacle upon you. You have to look for it yourself. And the tear-dimmed eyes are the eyes that need it most.

"Think of others instead of self" may sound like pious moralizing. But any sufferer who has followed the advice will testify that it has sound practical value. The grief-stricken woman who forces herself to think of those about her will find herself benefiting from it more than they do.

Getting through this life is largely a matter of choosing wisely the things to fix your attention on. When there is nothing in your own life that bears watching—look elsewhere for the show.

Trapped
by a human wolf—

WHEN Margy fell in love with Eldon Keith at college, she did not know that he was very wise regarding the ways of women, or she might have suspected something was wrong when he insisted that they leave college and marry at once. Had she only listened to the wise counsel of those who really loved her!

Swept off her feet by his tempestuous love-making—she yielded to the entreaties of her sweetheart—and one night they quietly slipped away—on the road, as she believed, to an Eden of Romance.

But as Margy looks back now on the tragic consequences of her folly she wants to cry out a warning to girls and their parents everywhere.

Her story, "The Lure of the Wolf," appears complete in True Story Magazine for July. Don't miss this gripping, heart-throbbing feature.

Other Thrilling True-Life Narratives in the July True Story are:

"Buried in the Heart"—Doreen knew Gordon Stuart was married. But there was something about him she could not resist—until one day she found herself in a terrible situation.

"Repent at Leisure"—A whirlwind romance—a sudden and secret marriage! It sounds very exciting—or so Nora thought. Repentance came too late. A true story that will wring your heart.

"The Letter and the Rose"—What would you do if you found a love letter from a strange woman addressed to your husband? Read what happened to the girl who writes this gripping, heart-throbbing narrative.

Prominent Minister Praises
True Story Magazine

Gentlemen: Carthage, Texas, April 17, 1926.

As a father and a minister of the Gospel I believe that Macfadden is a trade-mark of cleanliness and wholesomeness in life and literature. I have read much of his publications and have found the sunshine of life in them all.

I feel sure that nothing will appear in the pages of "True Story" magazine that could bring a blush to the most innocent maiden's cheek. Let young men and women read the Gospel of life, with its pitfalls and tragedies; then point out the right way and they will turn to the right every time, unless mentally diseased.

Without the slightest hesitation I am delighted to recommend "True Story" magazine to parents—its moral tone is magnificent.

Sincerely yours,
Henry E. Summers, M.D., Th.D.

BIG CLASS TO GET DIPLOMAS AT HIGH SCHOOL

ANAHEIM, June 9.—Anaheim union high school will bid formal farewell to the class of 1926, the second largest class of graduates to leave the school, at commencement exercises to be staged in the school auditorium, tomorrow evening.

One hundred and two seniors are to be presented diplomas during the exercises which will be the twenty-seventh annual commencement exercises held during the history of the school. The largest class ever graduated included 110 students and left the school last June.

Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier college, is to give the principal address of the evening. Diplomas will be presented by Dr. J. W. Harpster, president of the board of trustees, and various special awards will be presented by J. A. Clays, principal of the school. The Rev. G. G. Schmidt, pastor of the Evangelical church, this city, will present the opening invocation.

Everett Schneider, high point honor student of the graduating class, is to present the valedictory oration and Miss Dorothy Young, who attained second place in honor standing, will give the salutatory address.

Other program features will include music by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Joshua Williams; songs by the graduating class; a piano solo by Frances Yorker; vocal solo by Ted Lenz; violin duets by Lawrence Sweeney and Billy Grafton; saxophone duets by Jack Royalty and Clarence Woodbury; and selections by a sextette composed of the following graduating girls: Charlyn Tedrick, Ann Schmidt, Ruby Whyte, Lucille Hatfield, Mildred Latourette and Madeline Toussan.

BUENA PARK NEWS
BUENA PARK, June 9.—Mrs. E. E. Thurman was hostess to the Jolly Stitches at her home Wednesday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames William Umbarger, Pauline Cole, E. Ketter, C. M. Spears, George Cole, William Loughbaro, James Cole, Irene Couts, L. T. Wilsey and Edward Thurman.

The closing exercise of the Buena Park Grammar School was held in the school auditorium. Following the program the graduates entered the front door marching down the aisle with arched poles covered with ferns and pink roses. After they were seated on the stage, Rev. W. W. Hart said the invocation. Mr. R. Cummins, president of the school board, presented the diplomas. Those receiving diplomas were Jack Atherton, Marie Borzi, Martin Paul, Gertrude Wells, Viola Peters, Leroy Fletcher, Vivian Gross, Kenneth Herring, Nadine Thornton, Mary Gardner and Edith Hinds.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Berkeley and family were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Standifer of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Standifer, Misses Emma and Elva Standifer of Whittier.

Mrs. Carrie Huguenot was a Los Angeles visitor Monday. Miss Ethel McNeil of Monrovia was home for the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haggarty and Mrs. Mae Paegen have been vacationing at Lake Elsinore. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Girvin and son motored to Mill Creek Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Stanford and baby of Taft have been visiting Mr. Stanford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stanford, in Long Beach Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Spohn were dinner guests of Mrs. M. S. Berkeley and Miss Hattie Stanley Sunday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer motored into the Mojave desert Sunday.

P. O. Inspector Scans Petitions For New Offices

BALBOA, June 9.—Post Office Inspector F. E. Jarvis of San Diego was here yesterday gathering data for a report to the post office department on the petitions for the establishment of two new post offices within the city limits of Newport Beach, in which there are already two, Newport Beach and Balboa.

In one petition it is proposed that an office be established at a new grocery store at Corona Del Mar, across the bay from Balboa. The store is located on the state highway.

The second petition asks for a post office at the store owned by Wallie Kaufman on Balboa Island. The inspector made no statement as to what he believed would be done.

KIWANIS HEAR L. A. "AD" EXPERT

FULLERTON, June 9.—F. R. Miller, manager of the Better Business Bureau of the Advertising club of Los Angeles, was the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Fullerton Kiwanis club at McFarland's cafe yesterday. He spoke on "Truth in Advertising" and "Better Business Ethics."

A barbecue is to be held on Friday night at Hillcrest park for a get-together meeting in honor of underprivileged boys of Fullerton who have not had the opportunity of attending similar affairs. The purpose of the barbecue was explained by Dr. George I. Sellon and Jess Hardy. The barbecue is to be prepared by Archie Ralitt, Y. M. C. A. secretary of northern Orange county. The principal speaker at the barbecue will be Judge E. J. Marks, who is interested in the welfare of children in Orange county.

L. O. Culp, vice president of the Fullerton union high school, announced the annual exhibit of the school which will take place tonight. He stated that some of the best work that has ever been done at the school was done this year. He invited all Kiwanians and the public in general to attend the exhibit.

BOLSA
BOLSA, June 9.—The Bolsa grammar school closed Friday, following a most satisfactory year. Two of the teachers, Mrs. Margaret Willoughby, principal, and Mrs. Lillie Conser, teacher of the third, fourth and fifth grades, will return to Bolsa next term and there is also a chance of Mrs. O. C. Hare of Westminster, primary teacher, remaining with the local faculty. It will be known this week whether Mrs. Hare will accept the position or not.

Eight pupils were members of this year's eighth grade, those enrolled being: Ethel Rice, Norma Cosner, Marie McMillan, Josephine Mon, Ben Cosner, John Wane, Wesley Cunningham, George Cunningham.

In farewell to the graduates the sixth and seventh grades, which are also in the principal's department, gave a reception in the assembly hall. The hosts served luncheon and gave an interesting program, one feature of which was the presentation of the diplomas to the graduates who had voted not to have the formal commencement. Mrs. Willoughby, their teacher gave the diplomas, with an appropriate speech. The auditorium was decorated in yellow and white and only the pupils of the school were present at the party.

The primary grades did not plan anything special for the closing of school, as they enjoyed their farewell party two weeks ago.

The Bolsa Mexican school has also closed and the trustees are pleased to have Mrs. L. Webb, who has been the teacher for the past two years, sign up for the coming term.

Mrs. Margaret Willoughby left the day after the closing of school for Arizona where she will spend the summer with her son, who is a mining engineer in that state.

Services which have been discontinued at the Bolsa Methodist Episcopal church, South, since last January, are to be resumed on next Sunday, June 13. Sunday school will be held at 2 p. m., with preaching service following, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Mallory Flannigan. The hour for holding the service will be decided upon Sunday.

Elmer Radford and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shutt were entertained at dinner in the Earl Gardner home, Sunday.

PTHAN LODGE AT TUSTIN TO SPONSOR DANCE

TUSTIN, June 9.—The building fund of the local Pythian lodge will be swelled June 13, when members of the local lodge will hold the ninth annual street dance fostered by the organization. Committees of the Pythian lodge have been busy planning the dance for the past several days.

Grover Reihl is general chairman of the dance committee. L. E. Allen and Ed Kiser are in charge of tickets. Charles Logan is in charge of seating arrangements and stand committees. The work of sweeping the streets, building the band stand and seats, and electric wiring is done each year by members of the lodge.

The annual street dance is one of the most popular social events in the town and is known far and wide. It is expected that a record crowd will be attracted to the dance and several barrels of borax chips have been ordered to sprinkle on the pavement to make it an ideal dancing floor.

The Pythian Sisters will be in charge of refreshment concessions. Lively's nine piece orchestra of Anaheim has been secured to play at the dance.

Seven Directors To Be Chosen by Anaheim Chamber
ANAHEIM, June 9.—Election of seven directors is to be held by the Anaheim chamber of commerce on Wednesday, June 30, according to announcement today of Secretary George W. Reid.

Six of these are to be named to succeed those directors whose present terms expire on that date and the other to fill the vacancy on the board left by the recent death of Ed M. Smith.

Ballots are now being mailed to the qualified member voters who are to choose the new directors from a list of 275 eligible names. The six directors whose terms expire June 30 are as follows: A. E. Hargrove, William Stark, F. A. Backs, H. E. W. Barnes, F. N. Cibus and S. D. McGraw.

The five hold-over directors are F. A. Yungbluth, Leonard Evans, J. G. Hilleary, H. N. White and Dr. H. A. Johnston.

Whitson To Take Over Duties Of Beach Postmaster
BALBOA, June 9.—Richard Whitson, who was recently appointed acting postmaster here, expects to take over the office from Postmaster Busey tomorrow. Busey resigned about two months ago.

Whitson and Rev. A. C. Kitzmiller are among those who will take the civil service examinations to be conducted at Huntington Beach postoffice Thursday. From those taking the examinations, the civil service commission will recommend a list of three or less from which the post office department can make its appointment of a permanent postmaster.

Commencement was held on Friday evening at the grammar school auditorium and a number of relatives and friends of the graduates attended from Bolsa, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Patterson and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shutt, Mrs. Sarah Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughters, the Misses Bessie, Margaret, Myrtle and Dorothy Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Price and daughters motored to their ranch at Ventura county, one day this week, returning that evening.

I. D. Wallingford, L. A. Ross, Frank Ireland and Luther Morgan have returned from a fishing trip into the mountains in the vicinity of Los Alamos, Santa Barbara county. The anglers were disappointed in the fishing there this season.

Graduation at Katella School Friday Evening

KATELLA, June 9.—Dr. Benjamin S. Haywood will deliver the graduation address at the commencement exercises of the Katella school Friday night. It was announced today by K. E. Harpster, principal of the school. An elaborate program has been prepared for the graduating class. The affair will be held in the school auditorium starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The invocation will be delivered by Rev. G. G. Schmidt. Miss Helen Hargrove will deliver the class greetings. Pupils of the seventh and eighth grades will sing chorus numbers. Theodore Eaton will recite "The House by the Side of the Road." Miss Bertha Reusch will play a piano solo, "Hanging Garden." Elgin Thompson will give "God's Forest." Miss Helen Hargrove and Miss Esther Zahl will present a duet number. Miss Iris Hannah will read, "Janet's Graduation." Miss Esther Zahl will sing. Miss Beryl McOsker will read the class will. A mixed quartet from the Anaheim high school will sing several numbers. Miss Esther Zahl will present the class gift.

K. E. Harpster will present the class and Thomas Haster, president of the board of school trustees, will present the diplomas.

EL TORO
EL TORO, June 9.—One of the largest and best programs ever presented in El Toro was given by the school children Saturday night at the hall. Three playlets and a group of songs composed the evening's entertainment. The primary grades were at their best in "Mother Goose's Party," with Arnette Stowe taking the part of Mother Goose. The fifth grade was seen in a Japanese scene, while all of the elementary grades appeared in "Mary Lou Speaks a Piece."

The special teacher for music and drawing, Miss Gladys Johnson, primary teacher, will return next year. Miss Corum revealed the fact that she was no longer a miss when she introduced her husband, Kenneth Sturgeon, of San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon were married in Santa Barbara on February 22. The best wishes of the community go with them to their new home as the bride has made many friends here during the past year. Ice cream and cake and coffee were served at the close of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Tait left Saturday morning for Meridian, Calif., where they will make their home. Mrs. F. M. Gordon has returned to Los Angeles after a visit with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Prothero motored to Yucaipa Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stowe of Del Mar visited their son and his family Sunday.

Roscoe Gockley spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Gockley. He is one of the graduates at the California Institute of Technology this year, commencement to be held Thursday, June 10, in Pasadena.

GARDEN GROVE
GARDEN GROVE, June 9.—A one o'clock luncheon was given by members of the Woman's Civic club at the clubhouse on Friday. Covers were laid for 60 members and their guests. The club room and tables were beautifully decorated with the club colors of blue and gold.

The luncheon opened by all singing "America" followed by each member introducing her guest. Mrs. A. P. Nelson, Santa Ana, county president of Federation of Women's Clubs, and honored guests, gave a talk on the "Value of Federation." Mrs. Nelson then installed the new officers for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. Fanny Westgate; vice president, Mrs. Mae Zimmerman; second vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Jentges; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Woodworth; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Summers; treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Lewis; curator, Mrs. Gertrude Stennett; federation secretary, Mrs. Elva Hunt; directors, Mrs. Fanny Westgate, Mrs. C. C. Violett, Mrs. W. M. Adland, Mrs. A. F. Mills and Mrs. J. Farnsworth.

Mrs. J. V. Kelsey in behalf of the club, presented Mrs. E. R. Stillens, retiring president, with a gold club pin, in appreciation of her endeavor and achievements during her year as president.

SUMMER CLASS AT FULLERTON TO BE POPULAR

FULLERTON, June 9.—The summer school at the Fullerton union high school which commences June 21, is forecast to be exceedingly successful. Mr. Martin DeVries, director of the summer school, announces that more than 50 students have already registered their intention of attending.

These students hail from neighboring points and from Santa Ana, El Centro, Maricopa, Redlands, Pomona and other distant points.

It is expected by the summer school faculty that no less than 100 students will be in attendance when the students come for actual instruction.

The demand for courses seems to be most heavy in the departments of English, Chemistry, Mathematics, History and Commerce.

A large number of students are availing themselves of the opportunity to take up a study of the well known subject A. English Subject A is a requirement which is laid down by the University of California which demands that students must pass the examination in this course before they can be given a recommendation to college.

Courses in the commercial department will be intensive training courses, aiming to fit the needs of those students who wish to equip themselves with training to take office jobs at a later time. This course appears very popular in view of the fact that students are enrolling from many points to avail themselves of the strong department which Fullerton union high school has in this field.

YORBA LINDA
YORBA LINDA, June 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tutton were hosts to the Friday Evening Bridge club at their home. The rooms were very attractive with large baskets of various spring flowers, and the hostess served a dainty two course supper at a late hour. Prizes were awarded Mr. and Mrs. George Myers and Mr. Grover Beale. Other guests included, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hoben, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Selover, Mr. and Mrs. G. Beale, Mr. and Mrs. Warrick Murray and Mr. C. H. Elchler.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Knight and daughter, Majorie, were Huntington Beach visitors the end of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seaman spent Saturday afternoon in Los Angeles.

Mrs. George Kellogg and daughter, Suzanne, spent the week-end on the ranch with Mr. Kellogg. Mrs. Kellogg plans to return to Los Angeles in a few months and Mrs. Suzanne will enter Fullerton high school in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hargrave and Mrs. E. R. Walker left by motor the first of the week for San Francisco. Mr. Hargrave is enjoying two weeks' vacation from his duties at the bank and Mrs. Walker will visit her son, Donald, who is undergoing treatment in an orthopedic hospital there.

Rev. and Mrs. Guy Benton were recent visitors here from Bakersfield. They plan to move back soon to Santa Fe Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shook and daughter spent Sunday and Monday at their cabin at Ice House canyon.

Coaches M. J. Berg, "Hod" Chambers and R. M. Warren presented the boys their awards while Miss Helen Culp and Miss Grace Robertson, physical education instructors of the girl's department, gave out the letters to the girls.

MISSING ORANGE RESIDENT RETURNS

ORANGE, June 9.—Rivalling the bizarre thrillers shown on the screen in cheap movie palaces, the experiences of Ray Moore, local creamery employee, were being related by friends and relatives yesterday following his appearance after an extensive search by local, county and state police had failed to disclose his whereabouts, following his strange disappearance Sunday.

Upon his arrival home, Moore revealed the circumstances of his disappearance following a trip to Los Angeles to seek work in a creamery there.

Picked up by two men on a Los Angeles downtown corner, Moore said he was "doped" with a doctor's cigarette. When he recovered his senses yesterday morning, he was lying by the side of the state highway 20 miles south of Imperial. Cash to the extent of $60 had been taken. A watch, gun and milk checks had been left him. The thieves had also overlooked a $5 bill. His explanation of his being on the road when he came to would make it seem that the abductor had stopped to change a tire. When almost done, they became frightened and left Moore on the ground while they speeded on toward the Mexican border.

When Moore failed to return after a trip to Los Angeles Sunday afternoon in search of employment, his family notified police who were conducting an extensive search for the mysteriously missing man when he returned.

Orange Members W. C. T. U. Hold Regular Meeting

ORANGE, June 9.—Celebration of the annual flower mission day conducted by the W. C. T. U. occupied the attention of the local members at their monthly meeting yesterday in the Episcopal church. The morning session started at 10 o'clock with the group preparing flower bouquets. A short business meeting preceded the distribution of the bouquets to shut-ins in Orange and people confined in the Orange county hospital. Approximately 60 bouquets were distributed in Orange, while 50 were taken to the hospital.

The annual flower mission day is in commemoration of the birthday of Jennie Cassidy, the first superintendent of flower work by the W. C. T. U.

Electric Map Is Used by Class At Anaheim School

ANAHEIM, June 9.—"What city is the capital of Washington?" "Where is Chesapeake bay?" "What states border it?" These questions, relative to the geography of the United States, of dull interest to the average grammar school pupil, have taken on an unusual interest for students in grade 6-2 at the Fremont intermediate school, this city, as the result of the use of an "electric map" in connection with the geography study of this class, it was revealed this morning.

Students of the class, under the direction of Wilbert Bonny, their teacher, have just completed making the "electric map" and its introduction into the geography periods has proved extremely successful, Mr. Bonny said.

Representing an investment of $30,000, the new building is said to be one of the most modern and complete plants in Southern California.

SCHOOL TO BE ERECTED FOR ORANGE CHURCH
ORANGE, June 9.—Purchase of three large lots in the vicinity of South Shaffer street and Almond avenue for the purpose of erecting a parochial school at a reported consideration of $14,000, has been announced by authorities of St. John's Lutheran church. Negotiations were completed Sunday for the transfer, but papers completing the deal have not been signed by the sellers, Charles Labahn and S. M. Smith, Yuma, Ariz.

Because of the fact that work is scheduled to begin soon on the new $60,000 Memorial Hall, recently presented to the church by Mrs. Charles Walker, construction on the proposed school will not start until next year, according to reports. Tentative plans provide for the main building to front on Shaffer street. Ground in the rear of the buildings would be used for playground purposes. No auditorium is planned for the school because of the fact that the new parish hall will have been constructed about a half block from the school site. The hall will be available for auditorium purposes.

The present school property at Olive street and West Almond avenue has become too crowded for the number of students to be accommodated. It is situated in the path of business growth and heavy traffic perils the lives of the students, so that the change of location will undoubtedly improve conditions, according to authorities.

LOS ALAMITOS
LOS ALAMITOS, June 9.—Rush P. Green, tract manager of City Garden Acres, has announced that hereafter the tract will be Los Alamitos. Consequently all news items will appear under Los Alamitos.

J. M. Bowers left recently for Bakersfield where he has charge of a large manufacturing plant. M. F. Reagan is enjoying a short vacation in Elsinore and vicinity. Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Allen, fell on the pavement, severely injuring his arm.

The executive board meeting of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, met at the Woman's Civic club, in Garden Grove, Monday. Those attending from here were Mesdames George Watts, Ellis Reed, H. Condra, George Martin, E. Johns.

Dora Martin is to be retained as county chairman of conservation for the coming year. Tress Johns was appointed chairman of international relations committee.

Mrs. John C. Smith and daughter, Florence, accompanied by Donald Sawyer of Ocean Park, visited at the home of Mrs. Fred Johnson on Monday.

Mrs. George Watts and daughter, Wilma, spent Tuesday afternoon in Long Beach.

POSTOFFICE AT ORANGE TO BE SHOWN PUBLIC

ORANGE, June 9.—Officially opening the newly erected postoffice building, the postmaster, W. O. Hart, and the owners, Fred Grote, Louis Koth, Fred Alden and G. W. Struck will conduct visitors through the edifice this evening from 7 till 9 o'clock. Explanations of the various devices installed for use by the local postal employees will be made. New equipment and special features incorporated in the structure will be brought to the attention of those who visit the new building.

Representing an investment of $30,000, the new building is said to be one of the most modern and complete plants in Southern California.

UNITED, WE STAND

On the eve of the harbor bonds election—when the campaign is closed, so far as this newspaper's work is concerned and before the result is obtained—it seems fitting to review the case and look forward at least beyond tomorrow and what it shall bring forth.

It is pleasantly notable that the campaign, although strenuous and partisan to a high degree, has developed no personalities or bitterness. And it is to be hoped and believed that, whatever the results may be, there will be no sore spots left, no sulking, no factional or sectional animosities or reprisals.

If the bonds carry it will be a striking example of broadminded county-wide public spirit, and therefore a valuable lesson in inter-community co-operation.

And if the bonds do not carry it will be an equally valuable lesson, taught negatively, in the contemplation of what "might have been."

The Register has often expressed the opinion—and holds that opinion now more firmly than ever—that the whole of Orange county is one community, that all of its cities and towns and sections are so closely knit together, physically as well as politically, socially and industrially, that the structure as a whole stands or falls as a unit.

It is absolutely impossible for any part of Orange county to be injured in any way without all parts of the county suffering. And no part of the county can be benefited to any considerable degree without benefit to the whole county.

At one time, as in the case of harbor development, one part of the county may be more directly benefited, and in larger measure, than another. But at another time, as in the case of water development, another part of the county will receive the more immediate, direct and larger benefit. And in the course of years the benefits will not only be equalized as to sections, but for the whole county will be immeasurably increased.

Indeed, if each section fought selfishly for local benefits only, and against any common county-wide benefit of which it did not get the lion's share, there could not be any benefits at all for the county at large and few if any for any section of the county. And like a house divided against itself the county would fall.

Fortunately for Orange county it is true—whether the bonds carry or are defeated—that it is not "a house divided against itself." Over and over again it has proved its solidarity of public spirit and enterprise, the mutual confidence and esteem that exists among the cities and towns and districts of the Biggest Little County on Earth.

MORE STREET PAVING?

Another street paving contract has been let in Santa Ana at a figure that bears out a statement of a city official, that so far as price is concerned, now is a good time to do paving. The low bid for paving to be done on Pomona and Berkeley streets and Orange avenue, some 130,000 square feet altogether, was 15½ cents per square foot. This same figure is named in a recent contract for paving on a number of streets south of First and west of Main streets.

It has been years since it has been possible to get paving done anywhere in Orange county for 15½ cents.

Santa Ana claims that it is the best paved city in California, in proportion to its size and street mileage. Still, it has quite a number of streets that ought to be paved. Without intending to put in an order merely to help contractors get work at a slow time—it seems that contractors say that one reason why the bids are so low is that contractors forego profit for themselves in order to keep their men busy—The Register suggests that property owners on some of the streets that need paving might do well to consider the situation.

It isn't true that there's always room at the top. The nearer you get to the North pole, the less room there is.

SPOILING SEA WATER

Pollution of navigable waters by oil-burning vessels has become so great as to enlist the interest of the State Department. A recent announcement says:

"The problem is of great interest and importance to the United States because of the aggravated evils which result, including pollution of bathing beaches, harbors and shore property, with consequent detriment to healthful water and shore recreation; increased fire hazard and industry to the fishing industry and to wild life.

"It is hoped that the forthcoming conference can prepare the way for an international agreement of maritime nations to control pollution."

The conference referred to is being held at Washington this month.

Every industrial or mechanical advance made by man seems to bring new troubles along with its advantages. Factories spoil our streams; ships now spoil the sea. It is bad enough to ruin the bathing beaches by smearing them with foul oil. It is worse to destroy fish and other sea life that furnish food to man.

The government suggests, as remedies, that ships be required to dispose of their refuse oil by dumping it ashore, in harbors, or by equipping themselves with devices that would enable them to consume such refuse themselves. Probably this could be done by international agreement. It may be a suitable task for Geneva.

"Teach children reality," demands a business man. To multiplication and division, add subdivision.

WANTED—OAK KNEES

The old frigate "Constitution" needs repairing again. The Navy Department wisely seeks to repair it with the same sort of materials that went into its original construction. That is more easily planned than done.

A logging engineer of the Forest Service has been called upon to "doctor" for the old ship, to locate the special materials that are wanted. Among other things, natural oak knees are wanted for deck supports, but seem to be hard to find. Blackbeard Island,

Cal., is being searched and other spots will be included until enough material is found.

At one time, when such boats were being built, the timber supply was unlimited. Now it is a task to find enough of the special kinds wanted for repairing a single ship.

Appeal to Patriotism

Pasadena Star-News

It is well for Americans frequently to re-read the stirring history of the beginnings of Americanism. It is well to dwell upon the cost of American independence, in blood and hardships and sacrifices, and to contemplate the character of the men who became the fathers of this Republic.

President Coolidge makes appeal to the people to join right heartily this year in observing the 150th anniversary of the promulgation of the Declaration of Independence and in memorializing the one-hundredth anniversary of the death of Thomas Jefferson, author of this immortal document. By strange coincidence Mr. Jefferson died on July 4, 1826—just fifty years after the signing of the great document.

Mr. Coolidge urges that as long as Americans remain worthy of such sires, "the people of the United States must pledge anew in every generation their faith in the ideals expressed in the Declaration of Independence, and observe the nation's natal day in such a manner as to carry inspiration to all freedom-loving peoples."

Mr. Coolidge pays gracious tribute to Thomas Jefferson, saying of him that "among the founders of the nation, he was with the foremost, achieving with the pen as Washington with the sword and Adams with the spoken word."

It is well that the life of Thomas Jefferson be studied this year, the centennial of his death. He was one of the greatest democrats of all time. The Declaration of Independence itself is a charter for an ideal democracy. Mr. Jefferson wrote extensively for The Federalist. His writings, addresses and messages to congress constitute as fine a contribution to the cause of human liberty and democratic self-government as has come from any source, in ancient or modern times.

It is well to remember with profound respect, this great American—to remember and memorialize him, not merely as the founder of a political party, but as an illustrious exponent of democracy whose burning words in behalf of popular rights are the heritage and inspiration of all nations and all peoples.

Needed, a Stronger Mexico

Fresno Republican

The narrow escape of several Americans, this last few days, from injury or death at the hands of Mexican bandits, will not restrain other Americans from taking chances in the interior of Mexico. The risks are great, but the rewards for illicit enterprise are greater.

Naturally we will make a great fuss about these incidents, because of the "insult" to the United States in the person of some few of our citizens. But actually, the risk of misadventure in Mexico seems to be not higher than in parts of this country, when we consider the records of crime, especially if crime from which there is a financial profit. What wonder if certain ambitious persons in the far interior of Mexico see in the rich Gringos a source of profit?

The only real hope for better relations between the United States and Mexico, and for amicable opportunities for Americans to reside in that country with safety is in the creation of a strong Mexican state, with an accompaniment of a more united Mexican public opinion. It is no help for the United States or for Americans generally for a portion of the Mexican people, no matter how large a portion, to love us, if they do not love themselves and their government sufficiently to respect that government. If they provide for their own law and order, they will have the means to keep down banditry against foreigners.

A more popular government than ever, in Mexico, means a stronger government. And a stronger government means one that can do well for its own people and for visitors alike.

Bit His Way Into Fame

San Francisco Chronicle

The dog that bit King Haakon of Norway showed rare judgment in news values. For there is an axiom that when a dog bites a man it is mere commonplace, but if a man bites a dog it is news.

Even had the Scandinavian hound in question been an aristocrat among dogs he would have wasted time in sinking his fangs into an ordinary Norwegian. And being a plebeian, a frequenter of alleys, a consort with low company and a diner from garbage pails, he would have won nothing more than a swift kick.

But in biting Haakon the sagacious beast bit not only a man but a king as well. He drew blood of royal blue, not common red. And his deed was told around the world by cable and by radio.

One can imagine the airs of the creature as he swaggers among his companions of the alley, bragging that he has tasted of royalty and fame, and the envy that shines from the eyes of those who have gone through life hopeful that some day a man would bite them into glory.

It just goes to show that among dogs as among men, the successful ones are those who make their own opportunities.

CARRYING ANTHRAX

Quarantine regulations of the Public Health Service require the disinfection of hair shipped into this country that is to be used for shaving brushes, and the service has published information regarding the disinfection of wool, hides and skins in its fight on anthrax.

It investigates cases of human anthrax for the purpose of determining the source of infection and to prevent subsequent infections from the same source.

In the external form of anthrax, a minute swelling appears at the seat of infection, and develops into a vesicle containing serum or bloody matter, and varying in size, usually not larger than a quarter.

The vesicle soon bursts and leaves an ulcerated or sloughing surface, around which are numerous smaller vesicles which undergo similar changes, and the whole affected part becomes hard and tender, while the surrounding surface and neighboring lymphatic glands become inflamed.

This condition, often termed "malignant pustule," is accompanied with severe constitutional disturbance, such as fever, delirium, perspiration and great prostration, and a tendency to death from septicæmia. Recovery is not uncommon, however.

Intestinal anthrax is contracted from the eating of meat of diseased animals. The intestinal form of the disease is somewhat rare, but usually rapidly fatal.

Pulmonary anthrax results from the inhalation of infected material.

In animals, anthrax may be conveyed by the bite of a fly or the sting of an insect, or it may be contracted by grazing in pastures contaminated by the anthrax germ.

Things Are Fast Coming to a Climax

Should Have Own Outlet

Long Beach Press-Telegram

After many months' delay, due to legal formalities, the Newport Harbor bond proposal finally is before the people of Orange county. Long Beach has a neighborly interest in the improvement of Newport Bay for commercial purposes, but will have no voice in determining the proposition to vote $1,200,000 for this object. It should be remembered, however, that the more harbors there are on the Pacific Coast, the more marine traffic there will be, consequently the more business for all ports.

The commerce of the Pacific is growing; and Orange county is developing rapidly in agriculture and in industry. The time has arrived, with reference to the maritime activity as well as to the up-building of the Pacific Southwest, when Orange county should have its own outlet to the sea; and it is confidently believed that the decision will be expressive of this conclusion.

Worth While Verse

"If!"

"If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowances for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Of being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise.

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

—Rudyard Kipling.

World Needs Men With Trained Heads, Hearts

BY EDWARD N. HURLEY
Chairman, U. S. Shipping Board During World War, Industrialist, Nationally Known Manufacturer and One of America's Recognized Business Leaders

This whole matter of success is a question of man-power and salesmanship.

What do you think you can do best? Is your personality and physique such that you would make a good salesman?

If you are selling goods, would your approach to a prospect create confidence and give you sufficient hearing to sell your wares?

In addition to personality you must have courage, and courage with a smile. I mean this literally. You must first satisfy yourself that you are going to succeed instead of trying to satisfy a boss.

Dreaming and Working

The young man that has to be drilled and urged to work will always be a hired man. Dream and work for an objective and your dreams will come true if you concentrate and put energy back of your dreams.

The theory that you should forget your business when you come home at night may be all right, but the man who thinks about his work and is planning continually is the man who wins.

None of us works as hard today as we used to, and this applies to young men as well as to older ones, so there is a greater opportunity for the hardworking man who is planning and scheming to accomplish results than there has ever been. It is up to you!

School, education and college training are fine things. Get all you can of them. We have more college men today than ever before, and their number is increasing yearly, with the result that we are developing leadership in many pursuits.

The successful man of tomorrow must be fully equipped to meet his college-trained competitor. But if you would have some practical work at the same time you are studying, meet men in offices and shops, learn to know people. It will be most helpful.

Try to Sell
If salesmanship is your forte, you could try to sell something to your fellow students or as a house-to-house canvasser. Some of our greatest merchants, like Marshall Field and others, started selling groceries in a general store. It is a great training for any man.

Many business enterprises are looking for new men to shake up old organizations that have gone to sleep and are lacking in leadership with manpower and force back of them. Leadership in business, industry or in any field goes to the man with the most energy, imagination and vision, and not to those who feel that a college education is a great asset if it is not over-capitalized.

If over-rated it may become a burden. Learn to like people about you, and they will become fond of you. There is something fine about everyone if you are broad and big enough to find it out.

Meet as many important men as you can. Ask their advice. It will be profitable for you to do this.

And remember that our forefathers pioneered this country in industry.

Fearless Builders

We need more men to build and accomplish, and fewer men for the professions and white-collar jobs.

We need more men who will learn to use their hands and brains together. We need men who are not afraid, but glad to start at the bottom of industry's ladder and discover for themselves in practical manner how the machinery is placed together.

We need fewer men to fill the easy gaps and ride the swivel chairs. We need fewer men who think that simply by hanging out their professional shingles the world owing them a living will come to their doors.

We need fewer men, regardless how fine their intentions, to take the easy middle road and make capital and profit on the energies of others without being actual producers themselves.

I have often felt that the soft job, the professional career and the white-collared berth, which so many indulgent mothers covet from false pride and dignity for their sons, constitute a growing curse upon this country.

This is an industrial nation. We need and want skilled workers who can direct and help command our giant enterprises. We need these workers highly trained in hand, head and heart. For such there is unlimited opportunity of the most constructive kind and commensurate reward.

New Force in the Land

San Bernardino Sun

There's a new educational and moral force in the land, about which our ideas may be hazy, and concerning which even some members caught up in the movement may be a bit uncertain, except they know in general that it has to do with better boys and girls. But when it brings 2000 women to San Bernardino this week as delegates, to consider new plans and to take action that will add to its splendid momentum, it is time for the most self-satisfied among us to begin to take note of what is going on, and when we are told that it has enlisted the membership of 134,000 mothers and teachers in California, and 964,000 in the nation, we are more likely to be impressed, for there's force in numbers, always.

The Parent-Teacher association is a development of the times. Its purpose, briefly, is to bring the home and the school into closer relationship, and perhaps make co-operation possible in a work which neither can afford to shirk. One of its founders, Mrs. Theodore W. Birney, wrote of the work:

"When character building begins in the home cradle, and is given the greatest prominence in all education and in all work, then will principle rather than policy dominate the lives of our men and women, and truth and justice sit enthroned in human conscience." Formally, the objects of the association, in part, are set forth as follows:

To bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may co-operate intelligently in the education of the child; to surround the childhood of the whole world with that wise, loving care in the impressionable years of life that will develop good citizens; to use systematic and earnest effort to the end that through the formation of Parent-Teacher associations in every public school and elsewhere; through the establishment of kindergartens; through the distribution of literature which will be of practical use to parents in the problems of home life; to secure more adequate laws for the care of homeless and dependent children, and to carry the mother-love and a mother's thought into all that concerns childhood.

That is quoted from the original purposes of the Congress of Mothers, out of which the Parent-Teacher association movement grew, and which adopted that for its own.

Whatever affects the welfare and development of child-life, directly influences the future. Nay, more, it makes the future, whatever it may be. We speak lightly of the children as California's best crop, but he one's heart swells a bit as he learns from State Superintendent

Wm. C. Wood that there are 58,000 tots under six years of age in our kindergartens in California; that there are 675,000 in the elementary schools, 350,000 in the junior and senior high schools—more than a million of them, on whom all our hopes for the future must depend.

Small wonder, therefore, that the parents and the teachers struck hands in the hope of doing the best for the boys and girls, and that this movement has developed to such originally unexpected proportions. California is proud of the fact that the state can boast almost one-sixth of the total national membership, and San Bernardino is proud to have been the host during the week while these 2000 delegates were taking counsel together for the weal of theirs and ours.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT every citizen is directly responsible for the progress and development of the community in which he lives, in proportion to his means and ability.

THAT no man has a right to shirk his share of responsibility towards making of home city a better place in which to live and prosper.

THAT some citizens need to be reborn with an unselfish devotion to the home city.

THAT there are a whole lot of men living in every city whose knowledge of the city is limited to the place in which they live and the place in which they work.

THAT every city needs more optimists.

THAT optimists are filled with a desire to live with faith, trust and confidence they help to improve conditions.

THAT success comes to those cities which are filled with optimistic men with visions of better things.

THAT success never comes to the pessimist.

THAT every city has a bunch of pessimists. Little men with little minds who watch with envy progressive men.
